Awards Ceremony 2015

Music performed by Wayne Schneider, Associate Professor of Music

Prelude music by J. S. Bach, Dietrich Buxtehude, and Ernest Bloch

Processional Pomp and Circumstance Edward Elgar

Welcome: Antonio Cepeda–Benito, Dean and Professor of Psychology

Guest Speaker: Sean Field, Professor of History

Professor Field received his A.B. from the University of Michigan in 1992 and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Northwestern University in 1997 and 2002. In 2003 he joined the UVM faculty, where he teaches medieval European history and specializes in thirteenth- and fourteenth-century topics. Field's current research centers on the intersection of sanctity, heresy, political power, and religious institutions at and around the French royal court. His most recent books include The Sanctity of Louis IX: Early Lives of Saint Louis by Geoffrey of Beaulieu and William of Chartres (edited and translated with Larry F. Field and M. Cecilia Gaposchkin) (Cornell, 2014); Marguerite Porete et le Miroir des simples âmes: Perspectives historiques, philosophiques, et littéraires (as editor with Robert E. Lerner and Sylvain Piron) (Vrin, 2013); The Rules of Isabelle of France: An English Translation with Introductory Study (Franciscan Institute Publications, 2013), and The Beguine, the Angel, and the Inquisitor: The Trial of Marguerite Porete and Guiard of Cressonessart (Notre Dame, 2012).

Anthropology Awards
Presented by Associate Professor Deborah Blom, Chair

GEORGE HENRY PERKINS AWARD FOR THE OUTSTANDING SENIOR
This award is named for George Henry Perkins, a UVM faculty member in Geology and later Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Perkins is credited with teaching one of the first formal courses in Anthropology at an American university. The Perkins Award is presented to the graduating senior who has demonstrated superior intellectual commitment to Anthropology during the completion of their degree.

Hunter Cropsey
Luke Dorfman

W. A. HAVILAND MEDAL FOR OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT IN ANTHROPOLOGY
A Mayanist archaeologist by training, William Haviland served UVM for more than 30 years as a faculty member and Chair of the Department of Anthropology. Bill’s career was characterized by his desire to apply anthropological perspectives to modern social problems. The Haviland Award is presented to the graduating senior who best exemplifies Bill’s commitment to finding solutions for real-world crises through the use of anthropological perspectives.

Shannon Esrich
Riker Pasterkiewicz

JAMES B. PETERSEN ARCHAEOLOGY AWARD
This award is named for Dr. James B. Petersen, a UVM graduate who later returned as a faculty member and Chair of the Department of Anthropology. Jim’s enthusiasm for all things archaeological is legendary, leading to substantial intellectual contributions to the archaeology of the Northeast, the Caribbean, and Amazonia. The Petersen Award is presented to the graduating senior with a sub-disciplinary focus on archaeology, who best exemplifies Jim’s passion for archaeology.

JOHN DEWEY AWARD
This award is given annually to two seniors (one of whom must be a psychology major) who have conducted outstanding independent research in psychology while maintaining high scholastic standards overall. This award is named for John Dewey, an 1879 alumnus of UVM who pursued a career in education, philosophy, and psychology, and was a noted educator and philosopher. Often known as "the father of progressive education," a movement that flourished in the early twentieth century and continues to influence modern educators, Dewey believed that experience was the best way for students to learn how to create the conditions for democracy, solve social problems, and engage in moral decision-making. Undergraduate independent research is such a tool.
