

Save the Date!!

UVM Extension Winter Hops Conference

Monday, March 19th, 2012

Sheraton Hotel
870 Williston Road
Burlington, VT 05403

Ann Hazelrigg works at the Plant Diagnostic Clinic at the University of Vermont. She is also responsible for Pesticide Education and Safety and is the Vermont Representative for the Northeast Pest Management Network. Ann will discuss the basics of pesticide rules and regulations, spray equipment and how to calibrate it, and how to identify problems in your hopyard.

Chris Callahan from Callahan Engineering will present his small-scale hops harvester and small-scale oast designs.

UVM College of Engineering and Mathematical Sciences students will present their small-scale baler designs.

Daniel Sharp does research in the Food and Fermentation Science program at Oregon State University under Dr. Thomas Shellhammer. Daniel's research currently focuses on the aroma compounds in hops and beer. Daniel has worked as a brewer at the Center of the World Brewery, Ecuador's only microbrewery at the time. He has presented hop aroma research at the 2011 Craft Brewer's Conference annual meeting and the 2011 Master Brewers Association of the Americas annual meeting.

Check us out on the web!

www.uvm.edu/extension/cropsoil/hops

Subscribe to our blog for further updates:

<http://www.uvm.edu/extension/cropsoil/whats-hopping>

UVM Extension helps individuals and communities put research-based knowledge to work.

NORTHEAST
 Hop
 Alliance

 VERMONT
 AGENCY OF AGRICULTURE, FOODS & MARKETS

 RMA

 MDAR
 MASSACHUSETTS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES

This project was funded in part by the Vermont Agricultural Innovation Center through the United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development. These funds were secured through the efforts of Senator Patrick Leahy.

University of Vermont Extension, and U.S. Department of Agriculture, cooperating, offer education and employment to everyone without regard to race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, sexual orientation, and marital or familial status.