Headers

- Headers are very important—they give your webpage structure and separate various content from each other, so people reading your site can skim the page and find what they’re looking for quickly and effectively.

Header 1

- There are different sized headers, which the picture to the left illustrates, however for our UVM COM websites, we only use Headers 3, 4, and 5.

Header 3

- Header 3 we use for the titles at the top of our webpages, while Headers 4 and 5 are used for titles of different sections of that page, which the picture below shows.

- “Website Management” is a Header 3
- “Using Adobe Contribute” is a Header 4
- ”Webmaster Handouts” is a Header 5
