Transdiagnostic Principles of Change and the Future of Psychological Interventions: A Focus on Disorders of Emotion

David Barlow, Ph.D

HOSTED BY PSYCHOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Dr. David Barlow is widely recognized as the leading clinical psychologist in the United States. His research on the conceptualization and treatment of disorders of emotion, particularly anxiety, has revolutionized psychological interventions. Dr. Barlow has published over 600 peer reviewed research articles and 75 books, has served as editor of three of the leading journals in the field, and has received over 30 awards and honors. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Vermont in 1969 and an honorary doctorate from UVM in 2015.

Date
Thursday, September 29, 2016

Time
4:00 – 5:15 p.m.

Location
Livak Ballroom, Dudley H. Davis Center
Reception immediately following in the Chittenden Bank Room

For more information, contact: Rex Forehand, Ph.D. (rex.forehand@uvm.edu; 656-8674)
For ADA accommodations: 656-5665