E. Thomas Sullivan, The Twenty-Sixth President of the University of Vermont and State Agricultural College

At of approximately 10 o’clock this morning, the University of Vermont community was informed that E. Thomas Sullivan, J.D. will be the universities twenty-sixth president. The University of Vermont is excited to have Mr. Sullivan as president. Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Robert E. Cioffi is quoted in saying, “Tom Sullivan clearly possess the academic credentials, the extensive leadership experience at both public and private universities, the demonstrate accomplishments in the implementation of strategic plans and major fund-raising, and the personal energy and enthusiasm we need to take UVM to the next level of success.” UVM Student Government Association President Julien Golfarini noticed how he made an amicable effort to introduce himself to people while visiting.
For the past eight years President Sullivan served as the Senior Vice President of Academic Affairs and Provost at the University of Minnesota. Prior to his tenure as Senior VP, he was the Dean of Minnesota Law School from 1995 to 2002. President Sullivan has also been a visiting faculty member at Georgetown University Law Center, University of California, Berkeley, and New York University. On February 7, 2012, Thomas Sullivan fulfilled his duties as Provost as the University of Minnesota this summer he will move to Vermont to take office on July 15, 2012.

We are pleased to welcome E. Thomas Sullivan, J.D. as the twenty-sixth president of the University of Vermont.