

Vermont Science Teachers' Annual Conference

Vermont Science Teachers' Association and the Vermont Department of Education are sponsoring,
A Science & Literacy Conference:

Dr. Michael Klentschy

Communication for 21st Century Science Learning

...featuring Dr. Michael Klentschy, renowned author and science notebook advocate for successful science learning of ALL students, as the keynote speaker and presenter.

- Date: March 31, 2010
- Place: Stoweflake Inn, Stowe, VT
- Time: 8:00 AM – 3:00 PM
- Cost: $120.00

Registration fee includes the conference, a year's membership in VSTA, breakfast, lunch plus free access to the pool and sauna for all conference attendees after 3:00 PM!

Workshops will address 21st Century communication in science for ALL students through a variety of instructional strategies: science notebooks, project-based inquiry, engineering design, group collaboration, scaffolding to support English-Language Learners, technological literacy skills, and assorted software programs.

Registration available at this website AFTER February 12, 2010.

http://creator.zoho.com/doe_user/vt-science-teachers-association-annual-conference/#

Workshop Titles:

- Making Meaning of Science—Dr. Klentschy (K-4 and 5-12 sessions)
- Science When? All Day Long!—Virginia Grims (K-4)
- Motion and Design—Science and Technology for Children Program (STC) (3-5)
- NASA Explorer School Opportunities—Orleans Educators (K-6)
- STEM: Everest Trek—Tammy Russell & Trudy Fadden (5-8)
- Do Heavier Objects Drop Faster?—Paul Fitzgerald (5-8)
- Wind Works—Vermont Energy Education Program (VEEP) (5-12)
- Satellites, Weather and Climate (SWAC) Curriculum Development—Professor Lesley-Ann Dupigny-Giroux (UVM) (6-12)
- 21st Century Lab Reports—Tom and Linda McSweeney (9-12)
- Listening to Jupiter—Harvey Nystrom & Michael Norkun (9-12)