

Adam Wager

Department of Philosophy
University of Vermont
70 S. Williams St.
Burlington, VT 05401
(802) 656-3142
adam.wager@uvm.edu
<http://ruccs.rutgers.edu/~wager>

---

Education

Ph.D., Philosophy, Rutgers University (January 2004).

M.A., Philosophy, University of Iowa (May 1996).

B.A., Philosophy, Haverford College (May 1992).

Employment

Assistant Professor of Philosophy, University of Vermont (2003 - ).

Publications

"Synaesthesia Misrepresented"
Philosophical Psychology 14, (2001), 347-351.

"The Extra Qualia Problem: Synaesthesia and Representationism"
Philosophical Psychology 12, (1999), 263-281.

Presentations

"Lewisive Knowledge"
American Philosophical Association, Pacific Division, March 2003; New Jersey Regional Philosophy Association, November 2002

"Higher Order Qualia: Not So New, Not So Strange"
University of South Florida, February 2003; Carleton University, February 2003; Colgate University, February 2003.

"Perceptual Awareness and Perceptual Knowledge"
Vienna International Summer University: Scientific World Conceptions, July 2002.

"Epistemic Sensitivity Training"
Columbia/NYU Graduate Student Conference, March 2002.

"How to be a Sensitive Reliabilist"
Brown Graduate Student Conference, February 2002.

Awards and Honors

Outstanding Graduate Student Paper Award, Pacific APA, March 2003

Preliminary Examination (Area Test) in Metaphysics: Passed with Distinction, 1999

Excellence Fellowship, Rutgers University, 1996-1999

Teaching Experience

Introduction to Philosophical Problems; Epistemology (Advanced Topics); Recent Continental Philosophy; Minds, Machines and Persons; Logic, Reasoning and Persuasion.

Participation and Service

Vienna International Summer University: Scientific World Conceptions, Summer 2002

Selected participant in two-week program on mind and computation sponsored by the Vienna Circle Institute, the Center for Interdisciplinary Research and the University of Vienna.

Referee for:

Philosophy and Phenomenological Research
Philosophical Psychology

External Survey Coordinator – Graduate School, Rutgers University