The Community College of Vermont (CCV) is a public, two-year, open admissions institution providing degree, transfer, occupational, and continuing education opportunities. The Winooski CCV campus serves approximately 2,000 students each semester in day, evening, and weekend programs. This internship presents an opportunity to work with the most diverse higher education community in Vermont. CCV students represent a variety of races, ages, professions, and economic groups. Projects are flexible and could include planning an international food festival, working with adjunct faculty development, increasing student retention, working with students with disabilities, and advising degree students.
