Student-Athlete Development unit at UVM includes Academic Support, Personal Development, Performance Enhancement, and NCAA Eligibility and Compliance. Our unit encourages the development of UVM’s varsity student-athletes in the areas of academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, career development, and community service. Interns can pursue learning opportunities in the following areas:

1. Gain understanding about the mission and goals of the Department of Athletics, especially in the area of student-athlete support. Attend meetings, interact with staff and students, and learn about the roles and responsibilities of various department members.
2. Gain understanding of the experiences and needs of Division I student-athletes.
3. Assist with delivery of programming and services in areas of academic support, personal development, career development, and community service or rules compliance.
4. Serve as teaching assistant for a 1-credit Student-Athlete Development class for first year student-athletes. Take part in discussions, read and comment on student work, present topics in class.
5. Support activities of the Student Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), a representative group of student-athlete leaders.
