President-Emeritus, Vermont Conference on Primary Prevention, Inc.

The Vermont Conference is incorporated as an educational foundation in the State of Vermont. We have sponsored an annual conference on primary prevention in June each year since 1975. Each year the conference attracts some 300 persons from around the country to a 3-5 day meeting on campus. The papers delivered at the conference are edited and published as books by the University Press of New England and (since 1987) by SAGE. Justin Joffe and I are General Editors of the series of volumes. VCPPP is the sponsor of the Journal of Primary Prevention.

The 1990 Conference Improving Children's Lives: Global Perspectives on Prevention was supported by NIMH and by the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. The resulting volume was published by SAGE. The 1993 Conference concerns the prevention of mental/emotional disorders in aging.

Research Support:

The Vermont Conference on Primary Prevention has received support from the Waters' Foundation, from the National Institute of Mental Health and from the John D. and Catherine T. McArthur Foundation. The total funds received over the past 18 years are on the order of $800,000. In addition, income from the conferences has added about $300,000. All of this money is spent on scholarly activities associated with the conference and for the editing and publishing of books by UPNE and SAGE.
