

Alternative Species

Taxonomic Name: Deutzia x lemoinei

Common Name: Lemoine deutzia

Physical Description:

Growth Type: A dense and twiggy shrub reaching 5-6 feet.

Leaves: Lance-shaped leaves 2 – 3 inches in length and  $\frac{3}{4}$  - 1 inch in width with a serrated edge.

Flowers: Approximately ¾ inches across and bright white, borne on last year's shoots. Flowers for only a short period in early summer.

Fruit: This is a sterile hybrid plant and does not produce fruit or seeds.

Coverage Area: This plant is only found under cultivation in the United States and has not naturalized

Sources:

http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/depts/hort/consumer/factsheets/shrubs/deutzia\_xlemoinei.html

<http://hortiauray.com/seringat2.jpg>

<http://oregonstate.edu/dept/ldplants/dele-i.htm>

<http://www.ag.auburn.edu/hort/landscape/images/Y.jpg>