Ethical Decision Making for School Leaders

Rosemary Papa
California State University, Sacramento

Abstract

Ethical decision making is critical for understanding and demonstrating values that are inclusive for all students. Ethical decision making is underscored by philosophical, social and moral standards and codes, and these form the basis for understanding the relationship between one's values and decisions made in the organizational setting. This module intends that the school leader apply normative ethical theories to their educational setting and thus ensure the school leader's "moral compass" serves as the guide to complex decision making.

Contents (15 pages)

Goal
Objectives
Essential Questions
Time Frame
Readings
Materials Instructional Process
Student Assessment and Rubric
References

PowerPoint Slides (12 slides)