Gain international experience and learn about Australian culture while completing your UVM curricular requirements. This exchange allows UVM students the opportunity to study at The University of Western Australia (UWA) in Perth, Australia. Exchange students can choose courses from any one of UWA’s faculties (“schools”) including Business, the Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, and Natural Resource Management. UWA is also renowned for its Center for Aboriginal Studies and for its Asian Studies program. This exchange program was developed through UVM’s Rubenstein School of Environment and Natural Resources (RSNR), and RSNR students will receive priority placement at UWA.

Located along the Swan River in the west-coastal city of Perth, Australia, the University of Western Australia is widely acknowledged as having Australia’s most beautiful campus due to its architecture and landscape. UWA’s student union provides a wide range of services, including support for international students, and recreational and social activities.

Perth is a vibrant, sophisticated city on the Western coast of Australia. A place of energy and affluence, the standard of living in this beautiful city on the Indian Ocean is amongst the highest in Australia. Perth is a city with a strong university presence, commitment to environmental awareness, and friendly residents.
