Overview
The free five-part seminar series is open to 20 Vermont educators interested in learning more about Japan and its relations with the East and West. At each seminar, East Asian faculty experts will provide in depth information and materials on topics such as geography, philosophy, religion, history, literature and art. The seminar will also focus on Japan’s global relations with the USA, China, and other countries. Educators will explore how to more effectively incorporate this content into their lesson plans and to create Project Based Learning opportunities for their students. Middle and secondary educators of Social Studies, English, Music, Art, LOTE, librarians and administrators are encouraged to apply.

Benefit: Each Teacher will

- Receive $200 in teaching materials including a subscription to Education About Asia
- Receive $150 stipend upon completion of the seminar requirements
- Be eligible to apply for subsidized study tour in China or Japan or Korea (pending funding)
- Obtain graduate credit through UMass (optional)
- Have unlimited access to Five College Center for East Asian Studies Webinar series at no cost
- Participants having to miss one session may make up the time using the webinar series
