A NEW ADVENTURE IS CALLING.

UVM Outdoor Programs offer comprehensive, four-season wilderness recreation, learning, and leadership development opportunities. For more than 100 years the UVM Outing Club has upheld a proud tradition as one of the oldest collegiate Outing Clubs in the country. UVM’s proximity to the wilderness areas of the North country’s best crags, waterways and mountain ranges (Greens, Whites, and Adirondacks) guarantee an attractive classroom for UVM students interested in developing climbing, skiing, hiking, paddling, biking and wilderness living skills.

As part of an environmentally-focused university, UVM Outdoor Programs encourage students to develop a deeper relationship with their environment through fun, challenge, stewardship and community-building, making their student experience at UVM more meaningful.

UVM Outdoor Programs provide direct support to students in pursuit of learning and wilderness adventure regardless of where their wilderness adventure sports interest lies! All of our trips, facilities and leadership training opportunities are open to all and designed to be affordable. Most importantly, trips and training experiences are organized, staffed and lead by student like you, in the spirit of peer leadership!

Whether you’re hoping to hike Mount Mansfield for the first time, rent equipment to do your own weekend expedition or are looking to develop wilderness leadership skills, UVM Outdoor Programs offers something for everyone. . . most importantly, get outdoors and get involved!

Yours in Adventure,

JOHN ABBOTT, ED. D.

AVI KURGANOFF

Avi Kurganoff was an Outing Club kayak, ski and backpacking instructor from 2011 to 2012. His life ended prematurely in the Spring of 2012, after just getting back from an Alternative Spring Break trip. Avi had devoted his life to anyone and everyone in the outdoors. His passion, music, and infectious smile touched so many people across the university and within the Outing Club community. In Avi’s memory, the Catamount Classic was born.

Avi was involved in a youth mentoring program called DREAM. Each year, the money raised from the Catamount Classic goes towards a scholarship to send a DREAM student on an Outward Bound trip. The Catamount Classic is an event that happens every year where the UVMOC works to complete an outdoor recreation goal in one weekend. This year, join us to get more people outside than ever before in OC history. Our goal: Get over 200 people outside during this one wild weekend. After we complete our goal, come join the festivities at our after party for live music, cornhole, and food.

HOW TO SIGN UP

GROUP SIGN-UP: Make your own groups of club members, trek reunions, or just a bunch of friends. Register with the Outing Club at upcoming tabling events or email catamount.classic@gmail.com. Food is not included if you register as your own group. You can choose a day trip on either Saturday or Sunday, or an overnight.

Price: $10 each | Limit: 9 per group

INDIVIDUAL SIGN-UP: Sign up individually on one of our eight OC sponsored trips. These trips will be available for sign-up online at go.uvm.edu/octrips. Food, transportation, and gear is included.

Price: $15 for a day trip, $30 for an overnight | Limit: 9 per group

THREE WEEKEND BACK COUNTRY SKILLS COURSE

New this semester! We will be putting out a three weekend backcountry skills course. Go on three overnight backpacking trips with some of our experienced Outing Club Leaders. Learn what you need to know to safely go on your own backcountry expeditions on this course. Topics covered will include: Leave No Trace Ethics, Navigation, Dressing for the Weather, Food Planning, Backcountry Cooking, Shelter Building. And many more things you need to know to head into the woods safely!

You must have availability for: Oct 6 - 7, Oct 20 - 21, Nov 10 - 11

Limit: 9 | Price: $80 | Financial Aid may be available upon request.

To apply: Email Lulu (lorne@uvm.edu) and Ella (ella.mighell@uvm.edu) with the subject ‘Backcountry Skills Course’ by Monday, September 10. We will respond shortly with a brief questionnaire.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

ADVENTURE ROPES COURSE F.U.N. TRAINING (FACILITATION UNDERSTANDING & NUANCES)
The UVM Adventure Ropes Course offers engaging challenge course and teambuilding experiences for UVM groups and for the surrounding community (schools, businesses, camps, etc.) The FUN training course will prepare you to lead groups through a thoughtful progression and encourage participant growth and healthy risk taking. New trainees will be taught "the ropes" by current lead facilitators who each bring their own particular facilitation magic to the course. Technical skills as well as the art of group facilitation will be covered. All these skills are highly transferable to other areas of leadership, education, and outdoor programming. Plus, when you finish this training you’ll probably have a job! FUN meets weekly for 2 1/2 class hours supplemented by 3 days of training at the course.

When: Fall & Spring | Price: $100.00
Dates: Sept 23, 30, Oct 21

PADDLING FOR DEVELOPMENT (PFD): SEA KAYAK / CANOE
PFD is a semester long teaching program. There are three weekend trips in which PFDers will learn all the basic paddling skills they will need to be proficient Outing Club leaders, as well as the skills necessary to enhance their own personal paddling abilities. Each weekend we will be out on different bodies of water working on both hard and soft skills, while searching for the always elusive Champ. PFDers will learn all the essential wilderness skills to be an excellent and prepared OC leader. Most importantly we will all get to know each other through icebreakers, fireside chats and corny jokes.

When: Fall Only | Price: $150.00
Dates: Kayak PFD - Sept 15 - 16, Oct 13 - 14, Nov 3 - 4
Canoe PFD - Sept 15 - 16, Sept 22 - 23, Oct 12 - 14

SITE MANAGEMENT AND ANCHOR CONSTRUCTION (SMAC) - ROCK
SMAC is an instructional rock climbing skill development program for students interested in acquiring safe, comprehensive, top-roped climbing, anchor construction and teaching skills. PARTNERSHIPS & OTHER OUTDOOR RESOURCES

ADVENTURE ROPECOURSE
Teams take a variety of shapes and forms, from a classroom of 5th grade students to a group of software developers working from home across the globe. Each comes with their own personality, challenges, goals, and set of individuals and each team has potential for growth. Through a progression of low to high elements, we help teams reach their full potential. Facilitating at the UVM Adventure Ropes Course is fun, inspiring, and rewarding!
Our facilitators are drawn to this work by many things: A beautiful work environment, a flexible schedule, thoughtful coworkers, and unique programs. Facilitators are constantly challenged to acquire new skills, learn new games and initiatives, and help people find deeper meaning and connect the dots. The UVM ARC hires and trains UVM students, staff, and surrounding community members to facilitate our programs. For those interested in the UVM ARC and intend on working with us, we offer facilitator trainings - Megan Meinen (ropes@uvm.edu).

CLIMBING TEAM
The UVM Climbing team is for students interested in intercollegiate indoor climbing and bouldering competition. The Climbing Team trains together year round and competes in six to eight “comps” during the academic year.

CLIMBING WALL
These facilities offer UVM students interested in rock climbing and bouldering the opportunity to develop climbing skills in a safe and supportive community of peers. Our indoor wall, located in the lobby of the Gucciardi Sports and Recreation Center is open Sunday through Thursday from 5-10pm and on Friday and Saturday from 4-8pm. It is free for all students and a one-time belay test is required for climbers wanting to belay for others. There is no fee for students needing to rent shoes and harnesses. The bouldering hallway is located in the basement of the Patrick Gymnasium and is open during all hours of operation.

G.E.A.R. PROGRAM
GEAR is an instructional program for ALANA (African, Latina, Asian, Native American) students interested in gaining outdoor experience in a group setting that is supportive and does not assume any prior knowledge or experience (but is not an affinity group). GEAR is a sister club to the Outing Club and strives to foster a love for the outdoors and build a strong relationship between the UVM OC & GEAR communities, with a focus on building wilderness and leadership skills, team building, positive group dynamics, and FUN!
