

Spring 2016 Ice SMAC Application

Applications are due by:

12 PM on Sunday Jan, 31 2016

Applications shall be emailed to:

rmfrisch@uvm.edu

Site Management and Anchor Construction, or SMAC, is a leadership development course offered through the UVM Outing Club. Applicants should have some background in climbing and be interested in leading their peers on climbing trips throughout the Northeast. Ice SMAC will run through the spring semester, meeting once a week and on four mandatory weekends. On our weekends, we will be going to different spots in the area to climb and get some hands-on practice and experience being outside in the cold and leading trips.

Mandatory Weekend Dates: February 13-14, February 20-21, February 27-28 and March 19-20

- Weekly class times are TBD based on availability

Please fill out the information and answer the questions below and email it to the address listed above. You may print, hand write and scan it or write the answers into a word document, whatever works for you.

Name:

Year:

Major:

Email:

Phone Number:

Questions:

1. what is your previous rock and/or ice climbing experience?
2. what leadership or instructional positions have you been in?
3. what are you looking to get out of Ice SMAC?
4. why do you think you would be a good candidate for this program?
5. are you currently involved with the Outing Club in any way? have you gone on any OC trips?
6. what cartoon character best describes you?
7. please describe your favorite body of water in three words.