

Fall 2005 Seminars in Ecological Agriculture
Plant and Soil Science Dept. and the Raymond Fund

Rachel Thiet Environmental Studies Antioch New England	Seeing the forest in the seeds: can agroecosystems function like natural systems?	September 14 12:20 pm Kalkin 003
Mark Chien Penn State University	Challenges of northern climates to vineyard production.	September 21 12:20 pm Kalkin 003
Mary Hendrickson Department of Rural Sociology, University of Missouri	Concentration in agribusiness and food industries: implications for farmers and consumers	September 29 12:30 pm Stafford 410
Bill Liebhardt UC-Davis	Is California Agriculture Sustainable?	Oct. 5 12:20 pm Stafford 410
Willie Lockeretz Tufts University	Rural America in the 1930s, in words, pictures, and songs.	October 11 3 pm to 4:30 pm Stafford 101
Cornelia Flora Agriculture and Sociology Iowa State University	Why do we farm like we do? What does it take to change? — Socio-technical regime, novelties, and niches	October 21 11 am Kalkin 003
Hank Bissell and Bob and Jane Pomykala	Two vegetable farms — similarities and differences	November 2 12:20 pm Stafford 410
Eugenie Doyle & Sam Burr, Erik Wells, and Jim Maille	Farmer roundtable	Nov.7 12:20 pm Hills 17
Sandy & Paul Arnold sparnold@capital.net	Deciding what crops to grow on a small farm	November 21 12:20 pm Stafford 410