moved from Cincinnati to Burlington, he's available online. In the years since he stopped and listen, you'll probably learn somehis name is not Cornbread. If And I'm hood, man, I'm hood a Bengal, baby, that's a big cat!
I love cats. I'm throwing his bald head back and shaking out my window in my room. "He laughed, broken and I had like nine cats crawling
"I can't keep saying how much I love I'm aVermonter, " he isn't the same school your great uncle, John Williams II attended during the Depression.
He left town after the brutal Cincinnati Riots of 2001, and his father found work as head chef at what is now Burlington's Hilton Hotel, bringing him and his son to the Green Mountain State. "I'm a Vermonter," he declares. "I gotta represent for the home team, a lot of my success came from Vermont. I wouldn't be who I am without VT."
Vermont was where he converted to Sunni Islam and got married. "I'm married Islamically, which means we all know about them four wives [lashes peace sign...I still can be me, my wife trusts me, I still can do what I do. I'm a lot of things to a lot of people." Like most things he told me, the exact details didn't need to be discussed.
Kevin Martin started among many students and a permanent fixture at their parties. And now, thanks to his publicist Jordan Hurley (known on the street as J. Reality), you can find him on YouTube, Twitter, Soundcloud, and Facebook, where he has over 3,000 followers. But his various arrests, alegations of drug dealing, and recent year-long ban from UVM campus keep him a controversial figure. "I got some haters up there, I know everybody can't love everybody, but that's what keeps me goin'...I'm motivated by the hate. If everybody loved me I wouldn't have no reason to go hard...I go hard for those who love me and go hard on those who hate me."
Don't reduce his whole identity to lyrics like "Damn you brought strawberries boo/and I get to pop your cherry too/and I get that big banana/let's put fruit salad on camera" these are things he told me, the exact details didn't need to be discussed.
"I'm married Islamically, which means we all know about them four wives [lashes peace sign...I still can be me, my wife trusts me, I still can do what I do. I'm a lot of things to a lot of people." Like most things he told me, the exact details didn't
need to be discussed.
Burlington was also the site of his ar-est in 2007 for crack distribution sent him upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until 2007 for crack distribution sent him
upstate to Ray Brook Federal Prison until
... read the rest on page 4
Yours in mind and spirit, I will proclaim the mysteries of the constellations once more. I can only blame my shortcomings on the prolonged winter. When the frost creeps up, I find...
When it comes to eating in Burlington, there’s something to be said for the Ahli Baba’s kabobs. I’m the picky eater over here, don’t get me wrong. But I’ve got to say, the Ahli Baba’s people have got something going on. They’ve got a variety of meats to choose from, including chicken, beef, and lamb. The kabobs are cooked to perfection, and the sauce that goes on top is the perfect complement. I’ve been going there for years now, and I’ve never been disappointed. I mean, come on, who doesn’t love a good kabob? And the Ahli Baba’s kabobs are the best I’ve ever had.

My favorite is the chicken kabob. It’s got a great mix of flavors, and the meat is always tender. The kabob is served over a bed of rice, and the rice is infused with the flavors of the kabob. It’s a hearty meal, and I always leave feeling satisfied.

The Ahli Baba’s is also a great place for a quick bite. They have a variety of other dishes on the menu, like the falafel and the falafel platter. I’ve tried both, and they’re both delicious. The falafel is crispy and savory, and the platter is a great way to get a little bit of everything.

So, if you’re looking for a delicious meal in Burlington, make sure to check out the Ahli Baba’s kabobs. You won’t regret it.
I'm not one of those people who hear the words “Spring Break” and immediately think of the wild, carefree, and often regrettable experiences that seem to dominate the national dialogue. I must admit that over the years of hearing about these things, I've always dreamed of the perfect spring break: one that would allow me to relax in the sun, enjoy some good food, and generally experience a carefree, enjoyable time. I was planning to spend my spring break at my family's house near the beach, pitch my tent on the property, and enjoy the beautiful weather and scenery. I had never been there before, and I was looking forward to spending some quality time with my loved ones in a peaceful and serene environment.

However, things didn't quite go as planned. I had hoped to spend my days lounging on the beach, soaking up the sun, and enjoying some good food. But that wasn't to be. Instead, I found myself struggling to stay awake, exhausted from the long trip and the excitement of the beach. I tried to force myself to stay awake, but it was no use. I stumbled back to my tent and pulled out my book, hoping to fall asleep and start all over again in the morning.

It was then that I realized that I had been making a grave mistake. I had been focusing too much on the idea of spring break as a time to escape from reality and enjoy the beach, and not enough on the importance of taking advantage of the opportunity to spend time with my family and loved ones. I realized that I had been spending too much time thinking about what I wanted to do, and not enough time thinking about what I could do. I decided to change course and make the most of the time I had left.

I spent the next few days exploring the area, trying new foods, and simply enjoying the company of my family and friends. I discovered that there was so much more to be had on spring break than just sun, sand, and surf. I realized that the true meaning of spring break is not in the activities we engage in, but in the time we spend with the people we care about. I learned that the best spring break can be found in the most unlikely of places, and that the true joy of spring break comes from the simple act of being present in the moment and enjoying the gift of time that we have been given.

I was grateful for the experience, and I knew that I would cherish it for a long time to come. I realize now that the true value of spring break is not in the things we do, but in the memories we create and the relationships we strengthen. I am grateful for the time I spent with my family, and for the opportunity to be present in the moment and enjoy the gift of time that we have been given.

The moral of the story is this: don't spend too much time thinking about what you want to do, but focus on being present in the moment and enjoying the gift of time that you have been given. You never know when you might have another chance to spend time with the people you care about, so make the most of it while you can.
There are two classes of human that, given they don’t snore or smell significantly more than the rest of us, are unbelievably adorable: babies under the age of five and old people over the age of 60. It’s strange to think that we grow significantly less lovable throughout the decades between infancy and senescence, but the fact remains: you’re just not excusably cute for a majority of your life. What is the link between the young and the old that makes them infinitely more adorable than the rest of us, you may ask? Their sense of style, of course.

The fundamental shared fashion between babies and the elderly is not dappled, I which can almost guarantee you won’t be a victim of their first thought, but rather their mature affinity for sweat suits. Whether they are cotton, or that once soiled sports material, monochromatic sweats portray both varieties alike. Even though sweat suits come in an endless variety of colors, both babies and oldies tend to lean toward the pink or blue variety, though in varying shades. The young likes to pile on more vibrant shades of pink, blue, or even purple, while the elderly tend toward more neutral, muted tones. Perhaps these preferences are more an affection for the notion of comfort and practicality needed to take life by the horns, whereas the elderly already has. In any case, they’re both proud and show that fashions do indeed come full circle later in our lives.

Another style the younger one-lie suits is one-piece hiking suits. If you did not own a Disney Princess themed hiking suit as a young-lax, then you did not have a childhood. Period. One pieces are intended to protect one’s youthful skin, but this fashion goes by the wayside when they are deemed “uncool” around middle school age. From then on, every acceptable style seems to hide the skin, though the model year tends not to be as revealing. Although society dictates that this style of suit go on for hounds for much of our young adult life, it makes a victory in the most grandiose fashion around the ripe old age of 60. The relaxed, printed one pieces. If the tattered old ladies on the bus donning these suits t opped off with a nice visor and some wide-brimmed sunglasses don’t give you the warm fuzzies inside, then you have no soul. In any case, the one-piece does come back to us in the end, and survey says the elderly just look as cute as they did the first time they rocked.

Going from the top down, the final fashion item that looks just as appropriate on both sexes as it does on a good white sneaker.

For me, the key to the notion of 되 publicity (nearly) nothing (thousands of nickels, in which case you bad red denounce them with a single speck of pink’s). Babies and oldies, however, have an undeniable ability to work pristine looks like none other. The elderly and babies keep things things—fly, who would thank it. In here you have it. The reason babies and old people are cuter than the rest of us can ever hope to be is directly related to that same famous staple of fashion. Though I am not one to advocate comfort-chic, by any means, I will admit that I cannot wait to be elderly partly so that I can wear voluminous pantsuits and hokey-dyke in public without any shame. Until then, however, I do tend to keep things subtly stylish. Because your time to be cute again will come.

Krustacean creations (k) (from the krusty krab) by juliana nose

Those who reside on the east coast take pride in their favorite crustacean, the lobster. Aside from a traumatic experience in my childhood, I have eaten lobster just once. Back when I was four years old, my father and his big bald friend Mitch decided to treat me and my brother to dinner at the Krusty Krab. So Squidward, do you want a Krabby Patty?

I have never done this before so watch me hulk, SPONGEBOB SQUAREPANTS. When you put that strawberry in your mouth, I mutates into bigger, down south. It was ripe, juicy, and red, and senescence, but the fact remains: you’re just not sickly lovable during the years between infancy and senescence. So there you have it. The reason babies and old people are cuter than the rest of us can ever hope to be is directly related to that same famous staple of fashion. Though I am not one to advocate comfort-chic, by any means, I will admit that I cannot wait to be elderly partly so that I can wear voluminous pantsuits and hokey-dyke in public without any shame. Until then, however, I do tend to keep things subtly stylish. Because your time to be cute again will come.

In any case, the lobster is one of the most grandiose fashion items. The water was boiling, and as I watched as my dad mercilessly crushed the saltine crackers very finely and mix with all the other ingredients. Gently fold in the crab. Only mix enough to combine ingredients, because you don’t want to break the delicate meat. Carefully check the crab meat for any cartilage. Put meat in a bowl and set it aside.

Carefully check the crab meat for any cartilage. Put meat in a bowl and set it aside.

Ingredients:

- 1 pound backfin Blue crab meat or other lump crab meat
- 2 tbsp vegetable oil
- 1/2 tsp Old Bay seasoning
- 1/4 tsp Worcestershire
- 1 tsp mustard
- 2 tbsp mayonnaise

Preparation:

Carefully check the crab meat for any cartilage. Put meat in a bowl and set it aside.

Remember to check out the overview on the blog: thewaterfronttongue.tumblr.com

Reminisce to be on my environmental science class. The one with a gorgeous face and a gracefully unsevered

You keep staring at me and I keep staring at you. Does my stare really bother you? Because I like

While these crabby patties will turn out nothing like the golden drenchmas in the crab. Only mix enough to combine ingredients, because you don’t want to break doing something fun for I really hope you are the one.

I thought you were hot, I must confess bed time. The water was boiling, and as I watched as my dad mercilessly into the spreading sun with a fresh pair of Nikes, in which case you had better

I’ d like to take you home to the sack

I can’t tell if it’s really me you’re staring at

I can’t tell if it’s really me you’re staring at

I am Magnificent Maggie

And you have beautiful long, brown hair

I thought you were hot, I must confess

in the crab. Only mix enough to combine ingredients, because you don’t want to break

We college students are cheap bastards at heart and need to make do spending as little money as possible. When I saw the ad for the latest iteration of Pandora and thought, when was the last time you bought a freaking CD? A vie-"romatic" of new music devices cost on the line of $10. If you choose to allow those to listen to music without paying for it, and letting the little bastard of software, I was going to purchase a few. I knew I personally have a passion for this kind of thing. I've been a fan of the Beatles and The Rolling Stones for most of my life. So I started Pandora. Spoti-fy, the great free music debate:

spotify vs. pandora

In summer 2012, a subtle shift in the music industry occurred. Spotify was gaining ground. Although Spotify was not a new concept, it was gaining traction. Spotify was a subscription-based service that allowed users to listen to music on their devices without having to download it. This was a major shift from the traditional method of purchasing and listening to music.

Spotify was the clear winner in the great free music debate. Spotify offered a wider variety of music than Pandora. Spotify also offered a more personalized experience. Users could create their own playlists and even follow their favorite artists. Pandora, on the other hand, had a more limited selection of music. It also lacked the personalization aspect.

Theshift in the music industry was due to the rise of subscription-based services. These services were more convenient and offered a wider variety of music. The traditional method of purchasing and listening to music had become outdated. Spotify was the clear winner in the great free music debate.

Spotify offers a wider variety of music and a more personalized experience than Pandora. It is the clear winner in the great free music debate.

---

Dead Sessions at Nectar's

By Nick Patyk

I have only been to one Grateful Dead cover set other than this one, and that was Cats Under the Stars at Nectar's a few months back. It was amazing in its own way, but this show was truly something else. The core lineup of the house band Cats Under the Stars included Zach Nageotte on guitar and vocals, Ed Geary on drums and vocals, Jodi Groh on keyboards, and Peter Sahn on bass. To this, add general mini-basset hound Brandon regular and funk. Yes, let us all be thankful.

For this show, I purchased tickets for the entire show. On sale, sub in Russ Grasmeyer on bass and vocals, Josh Dobbs on keyboards and vocals, and Russ Grasmeyer on guitar. It was a great deal.

Spotify is a subscription-based music streaming service. It offers a wide variety of music, including old favorites and new releases. Spotify is available on various devices, including smartphones, tablets, and desktop computers.

Spotify offers a fair amount of music in the past, and hope to change my mind. This applies to the world of music, as well. Like seriously, when was the last time you bought a freaking CD?

During the first half of the show, both Zach Nageotte and Mike Pak were on a dazzling display of lead guitar skills. And, I also do ask the question about the whole “deaf” thing.

The feeling of being able to enjoy all the songs is a great experience. I also got to see Nageotte play the guitar and vocals with Wages, Grasmeyer, and Cats Under the Stars.

Spotify is a great service, but it’s not for everyone. It’s subscription-based, and some people might not want to pay for it.

Spotify is a fantastic service that offers a wide variety of music. It’s an affordable option for those who want to listen to music without having to buy it.
Congratulations, you are superhuman and can somehow fit laundering into your busy course schedule and don’t mind the machines always being crowded. It’s not that I hate you… it’s just that I can’t relate to your kind.

Sorry but you have no social life. Sadly, I fall into this category so don’t take it too hard. On the bright side, you know the value of your time and like the fact that you will most likely find an empty machine.

You my friends, are lazy sacks of shit. “Oh I’ll just put my laundry off til’ the weekend” you think to yourselves only to find that everyone else in the dorm is exactly like you and the machines are all full. Then you complain about how life is unfair or something like that.

Get ready to check yourself into a rehab clinic because you are a meth addict, or you have some crazy insomnia in which case you should still check yourself into the hospital. This is not a good time to be laundry so if you find yourself shoving clothes into a washing machine at three in the morning you should check where your life’s going.

---

Tip o’ the Week

Midterms aren’t important. Go Skiing instead.

---

The Silenced Crime Log

Like most of you probably do, I got the Cynic last week and opened immediately to the crime log only to see it wasn’t there. How devastating! After I got over my horrifying realization, my spidey-senses kicked in and I began to wonder why the most holy crime log was omitted. My first thought was that because it was spring break no crime happened. I accepted this hypothesis until I found out the true reason, which is much more sinister. Finding the true crime log I have decided to print it in the water tower, seeing how the Cynic has already tried to silence the truth.

Monday March 4:
Officers apprehended a Cynic member trying to taint the drinking water. There is no danger however as he/she was pouring the arsenic into the stack of water towers in the Davis Center, not the actual water tower.

Wednesday March 6:
A group students quote “tripping ballz” were apprehended walking along the waterfront over spring break. They were wearing issues of the Cynic as their only clothes, indicating they have close ties to the Cynic.

Sunday March 10:
Police were called on reports the smell of smoke coming from a dorm in Millis. Upon arrival officers found a blown up moonshine distillery. (So this isn’t really Cynic related, but how do you not report this. Shame you Cynic).

Thursday March 14:
Someone stole my wallet and I want it back. I must warn you that if it is not returned by Thursday, I have a special set of skills…