

Cohort study to evaluate the mechanisms and trajectory of cognitive decline in people with chronic kidney disease

Bar graph demonstrating higher rates of cognitive impairment with kidney disease.

A line graph demonstrating a faster decline of cognitive function over time in kidney disease compared to those without kidney disease.

An image of a blood vessel and potential vascular mechanisms leading to cognitive impairment in kidney disease.

Black and white logo of the REGARDS study, which was used for this project.