

Alumni

NEWSLETTER

Greetings Public Health alumni! Welcome to the Fall, 2025 edition of the alumni newsletter.

Program Updates:

Public Health Grand Rounds

We are excited to announce a new collaboration with the Vermont Department of Health- Public Health Grand Rounds! Intended to be a forum for education and discussion, the monthly grand rounds session will alternate between the VDOH and the LCOM UVM community to present contemporary public health topics.

The first session will take place on Friday, October 10 at 12:00 pm on Zoom.

Interested in giving time back to the program?

Have great feedback? Let me know:
Cheryl.hansen@med.uvm.edu

Did you know?

The PH Career Services website was updated this summer to include resources for professionals at various career levels. LCOM UVM public health career resources extend to our alumni! Please check out the resources and let us know if there is something else you'd like to see:

UVM LCOM Public Health Career Development and Professional Development Webpage

Communication in Public Health

Excellence in communication is a cornerstone of the Larner College of Medicine's Public Health Program. In today's rapidly evolving health landscape, the ability to convey clear, accurate, and compelling messages is more critical than ever. Our program is deeply committed to helping students develop and refine these essential skills.

Starting this fall, students will have the opportunity to share their perspectives and insights through the new Public Health Voices feature on our website. This platform will showcase student-authored articles, amplifying their voices and fostering meaningful dialogue on public health issues that matter.

Alumni Spotlight: Ian McHale

Ian McHale is the Director of Overdose Education and Naloxone Distribution with the NYC Health Department. In his position he oversees the strategic and innovative expansion of quality overdose response education and distribution of overdose prevention supplies in New York City. Outside of work, Ian enjoys surfing, playing hockey and making art. Ian has hosted a free monthly collage night for the last two and half years in his neighborhood in Bushwick.