

Audio-Recorded Lecture Agreement

The University of Vermont Class Recordings for Students with Disabilities

Accommodation for students with disabilities:

When an accommodation for recording lectures or classroom activities is authorized by Student Accessibility Services, an instructor must permit an authorized student to record classroom activity; only the student with the accommodation would have access to this recording.

Name of Student: _____

I am registered with Student Accessibility Services, and because of my disability, I am authorized to produce audio-recordings of class lectures for my personal study only.

I understand that the recording is intended for my appropriate use as a student, and for no other purpose. I understand that I may not share, broadcast, reproduce, or post the audio-recording with anyone, including other students in this class, without the consent of the instructor.

I understand that I am responsible for providing adequate security to protect the recording from loss or theft.

I understand that information contained in the audio-recorded lecture is protected under federal and international copyright legislation, and may not be reproduced, published or quoted without the instructor's explicit consent and without properly identifying and crediting the instructor.

I understand that this agreement shall survive the termination of my status as a student, whether by graduation, my voluntary withdrawal from my courses or program.

I understand that violating this agreement may result in the withdrawal of the authorization to audio-record, a review of access to similar services in the future and may be treated as an academic offence with academic consequence
