

Farm Management Teams Application

Farm Management Teams help farmers with planning and problem solving. Participating producers select their own team of advisors and, working with a trained facilitator, the group collectively develops recommendations and potential solutions to address management priorities identified by the farmer.

The program is offered free of charge to Vermont farms by the UVM Agricultural Risk Management program.

Space in the program is limited, and admission will be on a first-come, first-served basis to eligible applicants.

The UVM Risk Management Program reserves the right to reject incomplete applications, or to return incomplete or unclear applications for additional information.

This program is funded by USDA/NIFA under Award Number 2018-70027-28588.
