LAUNCH
Experiential Learning
in the College of Arts & Sciences
— UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT —

LAUNCH is a new website to help students translate their liberal arts skills and experiences into career readiness. Our goals were to:

- Create a central hub for overwhelmed students.
- Help define these opportunities as important to the liberal arts process.
- Create a roadmap for success toward incorporating transferable and work-based skills.
- Demonstrate how active our students are to prospective students, families, alumni and more!

What does it do?

Launch helps students find the connections between the skills they need and the experiences they enjoy! Connecting the Liberal Arts to real-world skills will only increase the value of CAS programs.

- For students: Clarifies and highlights rich experiences available to CAS students.
- For faculty: Pulls information together for easy reference and advising.
- For prospective students: Highlights the amazing work being done in CAS!
- For families: Communicates the value of a liberal arts education.

Here's how to use it:

When you're working with and advising students, use this website as a guide!

- Talk with students about the Core Competencies and Transferable Skills and how they connect to academics, extracurriculars, and work-based learning opportunities.
- Find further information and link with campus partners to help students find their way.
- Send to donors/alumni to highlight CAS's continued great work!
