

Position Announcement:

Andrew Harris Fellowship Program
Academic Fellowship in Film and Television Studies Program in Department of English
College of Arts and Sciences
The University of Vermont

The University of Vermont is pleased to announce an academic fellowship position in Film and Television Studies Program in the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) at The University of Vermont (UVM). UVM is especially interested in artists and scholars who can contribute to the College of Arts and Sciences diversity plan, which was designed in part to ensure faculty, students, and staff members from underrepresented and marginalized populations are an integral part of the life and governance of the institution.

Description

Andrew Harris was not only the first African American graduate of the University of Vermont (class of 1838), he was also the first African American college graduate in the United States to champion the abolition of slavery and to demand full equality for people of color. The Andrew Harris Fellowship honors his legacy by recruiting and supporting artists/scholars from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the academy. The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Vermont has a demonstrated commitment to cultivating an artistic, intellectual, and social environment that actively promotes diversity among its staff, faculty and students.

The Andrew Harris Fellowship is open to those who identify as BIPOC, POC, and/or PGM and is designed to bring promising early-career artists/scholars to the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Vermont. The Fellowship aims to increase racial diversity at the University of Vermont, where in 2021 persons of color comprised 13.4% of faculty and staff and 13.5% percent of students. CAS's strategies to address its goals with respect to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion initiatives include the recruitment of Andrew Harris Fellows.

This Fellowship is offered as a full-time, 12-month Post-Doctoral/Post-MFA Associate appointment (September 1, through August 31) in the Film and Television Studies Program.

Salary is set at $56,000 for the 12-month appointment. Full health and other benefits (see list of benefits and other terms of employment: <https://www.uvm.edu/hrs/postdoctoral-associates-fellows-overview>). Relocation and research funds also available (to be determined at the time of hire).

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

Area of Expertise

The Film and Television Studies Program seeks a fellow in film and video production. Applicants should demonstrate their promise as a filmmaker through evidence of their active creative practice and/or exhibition record. Candidates should be able to teach a broad variety of film and media arts courses, particularly beginning and intermediate production courses that provide solid technical and storytelling foundational skills. The Harris Fellowship will provide support for emergent filmmakers to teach and to develop a body of work with a reduced teaching load (one course per a semester) for the duration of the Fellowship.

Possibility of Tenure-Track

Fellowships may be renewed for up to two years on the basis of performance and budgetary feasibility. Fellows establish and pursue their creative work and/or research agenda with guidance through a mentorship program tailored to help the fellow to transition into a tenure-track faculty position at the end of the contract term. If, during the Fellowship, the Fellow decides to apply for a tenure-track position at UVM, Film and Television Studies will vote about converting the position to tenure-track and send the hiring recommendation to the Provost for approval. Such a tenure-track position would be 40% research, 40% teaching, and 20% service. The teaching load on the tenure track is 2-2 the first year and 2-3 thereafter.

Eligibility Criteria

- U.S. citizens and permanent residents (LPR) are eligible to apply
- Evidence of high potential to contribute to the College of Arts and Sciences diversity plan (see below)
- Terminal degree (M.F.A. or Ph.D.) in the relevant discipline of teaching and research or creative activity (ABD will be considered)
- Applicants must also possess teaching experience at the undergraduate level
- Evidence of high accomplishment as assessed by a faculty committee that will examine the publication or artistic record, as well as a minimum of three letters of recommendation

How to Apply

Review of applications will begin March 18, 2022 and will remain open until filled.

Please submit a complete application packet via email to:

Hyon Joo Yoo, Director, Film and Television Studies Program
hmurphre@uvm.edu (include subject line "Harris Fellowship")

Please include:

- Cover letter that includes a description of creative work/research goals for the fellowship year. The cover letter should provide:
  - a summary of the candidate's accomplishments
  - subject areas of interest
  - a description or statement of past contributions and commitment to advance diversity
- curriculum vitae (5 pages maximum)
- three letters of recommendation
- creative and/or writing samples (may include online portfolio)

For more information or questions, please contact Hyon Joo Yoo (hmurphre@uvm.edu)

UVM College of Arts and Sciences Diversity Plan

The College of Arts & Sciences \(CAS\) will become a role model for the creation of a welcoming and socially nurturing environment that actively promotes a sincere appreciation of diversity. To achieve our purpose, CAS will:

- Ensure faculty, students, and staff members from underrepresented and marginalized populations are an integral part of the life and governance of the institution
- Substantially increase the representation of women, minoritized, and other marginalized groups among faculty, students, and staff
- Engage all students, faculty, staff and community members in rich curricular and co-curricular experiences that enhance their understanding and appreciation of people of diverse personal and group histories, identities, and perspectives

Establishing a diverse and inclusive culture is a priority at the University of Vermont. In fact, UVM holds that diversity and academic excellence are inseparable. Read UVM's Why Diversity Statement and Our Common Ground values. The University of Vermont is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other category legally protected by federal or state law. The University encourages applications from all individuals who will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the institution.

Arts at UVM and Vermont

The University of Vermont offers rich opportunities for engaging with artists and scholars in the arts, both on campus and in the community. The College of Arts and Sciences offers undergraduate degrees in Art History, Creative Writing, Dance, Film & Television Studies, Music, Studio Art, and Theatre.

The University of Vermont is located in Burlington, the country's "smallest biggest city." It is a New England university city situated on the shores of beautiful Lake Champlain to the west, and bordered by the Green Mountains to the east, both of which offer easy access to year-round outdoor recreational activities/sports. Burlington is within driving distance to major U.S. and Canadian cities and was recently voted one of the healthiest states in the nation and one of the most desirable cities in which to raise children.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

400 Old Mill • 94 University Place • Burlington, VT 05405-0102
(802) 656-3056 • english@uvm.edu • www.uvm.edu/cas/english