

CESS Faculty Development Series
Fall 2020

• Teaching

Susan Hennessey, Tarrant Institute for Innovative Education, will lead virtual, interactive support sessions. Join one, some, or all to explore the intersection of pedagogy and technology. This semester sessions will draw from two texts: Online Teaching Can be Culturally Responsive (Teaching Tolerance) and Small Teaching Online (Flower Darby).

DATE/TIME	TOPIC	DESCRIPTION
Friday, Sept. 4 2-3pm	Microsoft Teams Updates	Explore updates to MS Teams, including how to integrate new functionality into your practice: whiteboards, polling, and breakout rooms or channels.
Friday, Sept. 11 2-3pm	Building Learning Partnerships Online	Discuss how to build learning partnerships in virtual spaces, including how to engage learners with collaborative games connected to course objectives.
Friday, Sept. 18 2-3pm	Using Multiple Apps During MS Team Meetings	Learn how to use multiple apps during MS Teams meetings, including broadcasting iPhone and iPad apps.
Friday, October 9 2-3pm	Collaborative Learning in Virtual Spaces	For these three sessions, we'll gather to focus on: 1) Synchronous: Facilitating small group work in channel / breakout rooms to maximize engagement and active learning. We'll explore tools, strategies, and structures to do so to include ways to establish roles, norms &amp; protocols for productive collaboration, and feedback &amp; facilitation options. 2) Asynchronous: tools and strategies to support student collaboration &amp; small group project planning remotely
Friday, October 16 2-3pm
Friday, October 23 2-3pm
Join at Microsoft Teams Meeting (http://go.uvm.edu/remoteteaching)

• Research

UVM's Research Development Team is a key resource for CESS scholars. Jeralyn Haraldsen, Director of Research Development and Heidi Malaby, Grant Proposal Specialist, will present three sessions focused on grant funding. Join one or all virtual sessions via MS Teams.

DATE/TIME	TOPIC	DESCRIPTION
Friday, Sept. 18 1-2pm	Grants 101: How and Where to Find Funding Opportunities	An overview of the Research Development Team and its services; discussion of federal vs non-federal agencies relevant to CESS disciplines; examples of RFAs with key take-aways; tools for finding RFAs; and help determining if and when an RFA is right for you.
Fri., Oct. 16 1-2pm	Deconstructing a Funding Solicitation	UVM's Research Development Team will walk us through how to analyze various funding solicitations to understand terminology, determine a funder's priorities, and consider how best to meet various RFA expectations.
Friday, Nov. 20 1-2pm	Write a Grant, Not a Research Paper – what's the difference?	Many of us are accustomed to writing about research for publication. How does this differ in a grant proposal? What are the roles of style and tone? When and where is it best to elaborate? Learn about these important distinctions and more.
Join at Microsoft Teams Meeting (http://go.uvm.edu/grants101)		