

Amplify Your Impact as an Educator

Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) Licensure Programs

Earn a master's degree and gain licensure to teach in just one year.

Graduate tuition scholarships are available for in-state and out-of-state candidates.

Change Lives. Mentor. Teach. Encourage. Inspire.

Launch a rewarding profession in high demand. Your degree provides you with the content knowledge necessary to become a teacher in the subject area(s) you know and love. Apply your education and skills toward a career where you can create equity and excitement that makes a difference in the lives of youth and their communities.

UVM's nationally accredited Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) offers two licensure pathways:

- Middle Level Education to teach grades 5-9
- Secondary Education to teach grades 7-12

Both pathways offer tuition scholarships and full-year teaching internships supported by UVM's nationally recognized faculty and local professionals.

Accelerated Master's Pathways are available for current UVM students.

Program Highlights

- Teaching licensure options based on your education/degree
