

LIQUID ARCHITECTURES + LEAKY TERRITORIES
explorations with art + artificial intelligence

JENN KARSON | ART+ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (AI)
RESEARCH GROUP AT UVM

MARCH 15 - 24 | 2022 | COLBURN GALLERY | UVM

Art Exhibition and Opening Reception for Liquid Architectures and Leaky Territories

Liquid Architectures and Leaky Territories is the first public exhibition of work produced by the Art + Artificial Intelligence (A.I.) Research Group at UVM, an initiative founded by Jenn Karson in the spring of 2020. This exhibition aims to engage and bridge research across the Arts, Humanities, and STEM disciplines on the Vermont Advanced Computing Center (VACC) and introduce more Arts and Humanities students to the opportunities provided by High-Performance Computing.

March 15-24, 2022

Francis Colburn
Gallery, Williams Hall

72 University Place
3rd Floor, University of Vermont

Opening Reception
and Mini-Prize
Giveaway

3/21/2022

Directed by Karson,
research group
members include UVM graduate and undergraduate students and alumni.

Curatorial
Consultants: Alice Boone and Christopher
Thompson

<https://jennkarson.studio>