7. The Classics department cannot staff a section of self-paced Greek both fall and spring.
8. Students ordinarily pass a quiz for each chapter of Alpha to Omega before attempting the unit test. Well prepared students may proceed directly to a unit test, but if they fail to attain 90% or better grade, they may not have a retest until they have passed the quizzes. Quizzes and tests are untimed and closed-book.
9. Students who fail three quizzes (or tests) on the same material may not be tested again on that material until they have spent time in tutorial with the instructor and demonstrated completion of all exercises in the textbook and comprehension of the contents.
10. Students may not request a quiz or test on new material after the last day of classes of the spring semester. They may request a retake of a quiz or test previously failed.
