Omicron Delta Epsilon

An International Honors Society for Economics. Membership to the honors society requires majors and minors to have completed 18 credit hours in economics, have an Economics GPA of 3.33 or higher, and an overall GPA of at least 3.0. The economics department chair invites applicants in the spring of each year.

Omicron Delta Epsilon is one of the world's largest academic honor societies. The objectives of Omicron Delta Epsilon are recognition of scholastic attainment and the honoring of outstanding achievements in economics; the establishment of closer ties between students and faculty in economics within colleges and universities, and among colleges and universities; the publication of its official journal, The American Economist, and sponsoring of panels at professional meetings as well as the Irving Fisher and Frank W. Taussig competitions. Currently, Omicron Delta Epsilon has 696 chapters located in the United States, Canada, Australia, the United Kingdom, Mexico, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Egypt, and France. With such a broad, international base, chapter activities vary widely, ranging from invited speakers, group discussions, dinners, meetings, etc., to special projects such as review sessions and tutoring for students in economics. Omicron Delta Epsilon plays a prominent role in the annual Honors Day celebration at many colleges and universities.

Recipients of College Honors

The College Honors program, designed for superior students with an unusual initiative and intellectual curiosity, provides an opportunity to pursue two semesters (six credits) of independent research under the direction of a faculty sponsor. Students may pursue a thesis or creative project.

Students may apply for College Honors if they have a cumulative GPA of 3.40 or higher. Students in the College of Arts and Sciences who wish to pursue College Honors must submit their applications early in the first term of their senior year (please see Important Dates for deadlines).

All students in the College of Arts and Sciences who are also members of the Honors College have a shared set of opportunities and responsibilities that come with their "dual citizenship" in both colleges. All Honors College students in the College of Arts and Sciences are required to successfully complete a College Honors thesis or creative project in order to graduate as University Scholars.
