Physics 30 is a 1 credit problem solving session designed to partner with Physics 31 & 51.

Time: Fridays 2:50-4:05
Room: Harris 115

Instructor: Dr. Luke Donforth
luke.donforth@uvm.edu
Office hours: Monday and Tuesday 10-11:30 am in Innovation 227

Course Objective:
Provide additional insight into calculus based physics with problem solving skills.

Required Course Materials:
All required materials are covered by Physics 31 or 51; no additional materials required for this class.

Grading:
This is a PASS/FAIL course graded on participation.
Students upload images of their in-class work into Blackboard. Students are allowed three missed weeks for the semester. Missing more than three classes without excuse or failing to participate in class (hence no evidence of participation available) will result in failing the class.

Prerequisites:
Concurrent enrollment in either Physics 31 or Physics 51.

Attendance:
Attendance and participation is the point of the class and the basis of your grade.
We appreciate there may be occasions beyond your control (such as serious personal illness or a death in the family). In those situations, please contact the course coordinator as soon as possible to make sure that you are keeping up with the material discussed in class.

Enrollment:
Add, Drop or Section Changes must be done using the UVM Registrar's web page, or directly through the Registrar's office. More information can be found at https://www.uvm.edu/registrar/academic-calendars

Student Accessibility Services
In keeping with University policy, any student with a documented disability interested in utilizing accommodations should contact the Center for Student Success. Student Accessibility Services works with students and faculty in an interactive process to explore reasonable and appropriate accommodations, which are communicated to faculty in an accommodation letter. All students are strongly encouraged to meet with their TA, the lab coordinator, and the course instructor to discuss the accommodations they plan to use in each course. A student's accommodation letter lists those accommodations that will not be implemented until the student meets with their faculty to create a plan. Begin the process at: A170 Living/Learning Center; 802-656-7753; access@uvm.edu; or https://www.uvm.edu/academicsuccess/student_accessibility_services.

Religious Accommodations:
Students have the right to practice the religion of their choice. If you need to miss class to observe a religious holiday, please submit the dates of your absence to the course coordinator in writing by the end of the second full week of classes. You will be permitted to make up work within a mutually agreed-upon time.

Academic Integrity:
Students are expected to comply with the UVM Code of Academic Integrity.

Please consult the website of Center for Student Conduct for details.
Cooperation and discussion with peers is expected and encouraged; but your analysis, work, and write-up must be your own individual work. Plagiarism and collusion will be referred to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Sexual Assault, Relationship Violence, Harassment, and/or Discrimination Disclosure:
All course instructors (including graduate and undergraduate students hired for the course) are "Responsible Employees" or mandatory reporters, meaning we are responsible for reporting to the Title IX Coordinator instances of sexual assault, intimate partner violence, harassment, and discrimination disclosed to any of us, including the name of the person that disclosed the information, for institutional review. If you would like to speak confidentially with someone (i.e., someone not required to make a report for institutional review), you may contact the following resources directly for support: Campus Victim's Advocate, UVM Counseling & Psychiatry Services, and the Student Health Center. These resources are also listed at https://www.uvm.edu/aaeo/resources_links.
