I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

SPAN 002 is the second course in a two-semester sequence of beginning Spanish. It is designed for students who have successfully completed SPAN 001 at the University of Vermont, as well as students with previous experience in Spanish who have scored the requisite number of points in the UVM placement test. The course emphasizes all four skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Upon completion of this course, students will be able to use their newly acquired skills in order to communicate in Spanish in a realistic and culturally appropriate manner. All classes are taught in Spanish. The University of Vermont respects the Department of Education's definition of a credit hour. For every hour spent in class, you are expected to spend approximately 2 hours outside of class. Thus, in SPAN 002, a 4-credit course, you should plan to spend about 8 hours a week outside of the classroom preparing assignments and studying.

II. COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of this course, the student:

- will be able to converse simply about familiar topics necessary for survival in the target language culture: giving personal information, stating a simple opinion and talking about a limited number of activities, preferences, and immediate needs.
- will be able to understand predictable messages found in public spaces.
- will be sensitive to and respectful of cultural differences.
- will judge intelligently the quality of available resources for learning Spanish.
- will be able to write simply about common, discrete elements of daily life in a personal manner.
- will be able to recognize key words and cognates while engaging in the reading of non-complex texts (literary or other) in the target language, and deriving from them relevant information and/or aesthetic pleasure.
- will have broadened his/her general cultural knowledge of Spanish-speaking communities and countries of the world today.

This is just an example of a grade breakdown. Instructors may tailor the grade breakdown to their own courses and are not limited to these classifications or percentages.

1. Partial exams (30%)

The scheduled partial exams in this class will be given on the following dates:

There will be no make-up exams in this class without an official excuse.

Official excuses may consist of: religious holidays (during the first 2 weeks of classes, you should submit a letter to your instructor with the dates and reasons for your absences); UVM-sponsored events (during the first 2 weeks of classes, you should submit a letter to your instructor, on UVM letterhead and signed by your supervisor or coach, with the dates and reasons for your absences); Dean's excuse (contact your Dean's Office if you have a serious reason to miss classes or tests and they will email your instructor).

2. Final Exam (20%)

The final exam for this class is comprehensive and is scheduled for:

No make-ups will be given without an official excuse.

3. Class participation, absences, and late arrivals (15%)

Participation

In the SPAN 001 classroom, active and constructive class participation is a requirement. Speaking a foreign language with proficiency is an acquired skill that entails consistent practice and self-discipline. In this class, active participation includes volunteering answers, answering questions accurately, staying on task in pair and group work, and respecting the classroom environment rules.

Absences

More than four (4) unexcused absences (i.e., absences for which you do not have an official excuse) will lower your final grade. Unexcused absences may include light illness, faulty alarm clocks, and delayed flights...

Late arrivals

Three (3) late arrivals equal one absence in this course.

4. Homework (10%)

You must respect your instructor's homework guidelines. Please use high-quality dictionaries, avoid automatic translators, and carefully review your work. Late homework will not be accepted.

V. VARIA

1. Academic integrity: It is plagiarism to present another's ideas or words as your own. In a foreign language classroom, this includes computer-based translations. If you have questions when preparing a composition or other graded assignment, please ask your instructor. Do not have someone else correct your writing for you before turning it in for a grade. Plagiarism is a serious academic offense, and can result in a failing grade or worse.

2. Student learning accommodations: In keeping with University policy, any student with a documented disability interested in utilizing accommodations should contact ACCESS, the office of Student Accessibility Services on campus (www.uvm.edu/access).
3. Religious Holidays: Students have the right to practice the religion of their choice. If you need to miss class to observe a religious holiday, please submit
