What is the state of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the environmental field? Do environmental institutions have a diversity problem? How did we get here, and what should we do about it?

Dr. Taylor is a leading national thinker and do-er in addressing multifaceted questions at the intersection of environmental and social justice. She has written multiple widely acclaimed books on environmental justice, founded multiple organizations that tackle these issues, and received numerous prestigious awards that recognize her service and insight.

For more information:
Professor Rachelle Gould  rgould@uvm.edu
Professor Bindu Panikkar  Bindu.Panikkar@uvm.edu
For ADA accommodations: (802) 656-5665

DORCETA TAYLOR, PHD
James E. Crowfoot Professor of Environmental Justice,
University of Michigan
Freudenberg Lifetime Achievement Award
(Association of Environmental Sciences & Studies)
Carol Hollenshead Award for Excellence in Promoting Equity and Social Change

Date
Wednesday, March 25
Time
5:00–6:15 p.m.
Talk and Q&A
Location
Ira Allen Chapel

Sponsored by the Honors College Michael Zeltzerman Lecture Series and the Dan and Carole Burack President’s Distinguished Lecture Series.

THIS EVENT IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.