4-Digist Course Levels and Prerequisites

Prerequisites should be assigned to courses in the new numbering scheme as follows:

- 1000 courses have no prerequisites unless they are in a sequence.

- 2000 courses must have a minimum prerequisite of 3 hours prior study at the introductory level in the discipline, or in another specified discipline, or some specified equivalent preparation.

- 3000 courses must have a minimum prerequisite of 3 hours prior study at the intermediate level in the discipline, or in a related discipline, or some specified equivalent preparation.

- 4000 courses must have a minimum prerequisite of 3 hours prior study at the intermediate level in the discipline, or in a related discipline, or some specified equivalent preparation.

- 5000 courses may have graduate, but not undergraduate prerequisites; enrollment should be managed through program restrictions and/or Instructor permission, not through course prerequisites.

- 6000 courses may have graduate prerequisites and/or program restrictions including Instructor permission.

- 7000 courses may have graduate prerequisites and/or program restrictions including Instructor permission.
