

Why is this so Hard? Part 1

Mon., Jan. 28
Elizabeth Palchak
Rock Room (Aiken 301)

The first in a two part series! These workshops will share research, tools and strategies to help your productivity while remaining sane. Learn good work habits and options for establishing these habits, both for school and beyond. Learn how good habits can support mental and physical health.

Why is this so Hard? Part 2

Mon., Feb. 4
Rebecca Stern
Rock Room (Aiken 301)

The second in a two part series! These workshops will share research, tools and strategies to help your productivity while remaining sane. Writing a thesis or dissertation requires a completely new way of working and writing. Learn what you need to do to move forward, complete your degree and stay healthy.

Academic Proposal Writing

Mon. Feb. 11
9 am — 10:30 am
Aiken 311

Current Associate Professor and Director of RSENR Graduate Program Kimberly Wallin and RSENR graduate students Stephanie Juice, Bonnie Reese, and Jake Debow will share their tips and tricks for how to create an academic proposal.

Publishing with Professor Aimee Classen

Weds, Feb. 27
9 am — 10:30 am
Aimee Classen
Aiken 311

Want to learn tips for getting published—and everything that happens before? This workshop will cover how to start writing a manuscript, how to choose the right journal, deciding when its ready to submit, addressing reviewer comments and edits (including those you might disagree with), and more.

Salary Negotiations

Weds., March 6
11:30 am — 1:00 pm
Anna Smiles-Becker & Women in Science
Aiken 103

Most employers are willing to negotiate salary, but many employees never try to! Salary negotiation can be stressful, but it's a critical skill to make sure you get paid what you deserve. In this workshop, we will review tactics to help you prepare for, ease anxiety around, and gain confidence in negotiating a salary and employment packages.

NVivo Workshop

Weds., March 27
10:30 am—12 pm
Diana Hackenburg & Camille Marcotte
Aiken 311

This informal workshop will cover the basics of NVivo software, including how it can help you with literature reviews, text and photo data analysis, coding interviews, and more.

How to Write a Research Statement for Interviews

Weds., April 3rd
2:30—4pm
Aiken 311

The research statement is a common component of an academic job application and requires style and vision! Drs. Walter Poleman, Eric Roy, and Mindy Morales-Williams will help you strategically summarize your research and the future direction of your work.

RSVP: Carolyn Goodwin Kueffner
(cgoodwin@uvm.edu)

Food provided!
Please include any dietary needs on your RSVP so that they may be accommodated.

Data Management & Archiving, Why It Matters

Tues., April 16th
11:30 am—1pm
Jim Duncan & Lindsay Barbieri
Aiken 311

Data management, archiving and sharing plans are required for nearly every funding proposal and journal article. Making your data available can increase the impact and visibility of your research. But where to start? We'll discuss international best practices and give a crash course in using the FEMC for archiving your research data.