

Report Out

---

---

Leafy greens are harvested in bunches and then set on the ground next to the row to be picked up later, but then the vehicle drives by and splashes water from drainage ditch onto the greens.

2 groups

---

Cabbage is hand harvested with a knife and laid on the ground, another person comes behind to trim it and put it in the box. The boxes are stored upright and outside so occasionally if there's been rain, they contain water.

3 groups

Photo credit: Adobe

Dwarf or semi dwarf apple tree that is overloaded with apples tips over under the weight with one side of apples touching the ground.

2 groups

Photo credit: The Martha Stewart Blog

Onions are harvested with a mechanical harvester that lifts the crop and lays the onions on the ground to be picked up later.

2 groups

Photo Credit: Nicholson Machinery Ltd.

---

Tomatoes in a greenhouse that are trellised but the trellis fails.

3 groups

---

While transferring apples from the picking bag to the bin some roll off on to the ground.

2 groups

Photo Credit: David Lassman, The Post-Standard