Dear Graduates, Faculty, Family, and Friends,

Welcome to the 217th Commencement at the University of Vermont! Our ceremony today continues the tradition, begun more than two centuries ago, of convening the University community to honor our graduates and celebrate their many achievements in their time at UVM.

Our graduates have much to be proud of as they stand among their peers today. Each one has reached for this education and for this moment of completion. Each graduate has strived for the learning, the knowledge, the new ways of seeing and perceiving that have come from immersive study in the living laboratory of UVM. In every way, the Class of 2018 has excelled, showing themselves to be leaders and learners in the long tradition of engaged citizenship for which UVM is known.

Graduates, today we celebrate you—all that you have accomplished and all that is to come as you take this spirit of active and engaged learning out into the world. Each of you will forever be a part of the UVM community and will always be welcomed home here. I hope you will remain active in our community that you have so helped to shape in your time at UVM. Come back often.

Congratulations to the Class of 2018!

ALEXANDER NEMEROV
Commencement Speaker

Celebrated humanities scholar Alexander Nemerov, University of Vermont Class of 1985, brings an explorer’s mind and an imaginative, perceptive voice to his close readings of American visual art and cultural history, opening pathways of personal understanding and meaning for his students, colleagues, and readers. Drawing analogies from visual, literary, and historic source material, Professor Nemerov engages art as a springboard for asking questions about democracy, ethics, culture, identity, and humanity. Chair of the Art and Art History Department at Stanford University and the Carl and Marilynn Thoma Provostial Professor in the Arts and Humanities, he kindles great passion among students for the study of art history in his enormously popular classes. He received a Doctor of Letters, honoris causa during University of Vermont’s 2017 commencement ceremonies.

Professor Nemerov graduated cum laude with a bachelor of arts in art history and English. He credits his University of Vermont art history professors Christie Fengler-Stephany, Margaret Roland, and Bill Lipke, and English professor Mary. Jane Dickerson, among others, with directly inspiring his career as an art historian and as a teacher. Beyond the writing required for his studies, as editor-in-chief of UVM’s student newspaper, the Cynic, he wrote multiple news articles and editorials weekly, a practice that he considers invaluable to his development as a writer. His UVM mentors recall his independence of thought, curiosity, humility, and determination.

Upon earning his doctorate in art history from Yale University in 1992, Professor Nemerov began teaching at Stanford University. In 2001 he returned to his graduate school alma mater, where his class “Introduction to Western Art” grew to attract one of the largest enrollments of any undergraduate class at Yale.

In the words of a former Yale colleague, “When he speaks about art, Alex has a mesmerizing quality, one that derives from a combination of deep learning and individual poetic sensibility. Generations of students—in economics, biology, psychology—who have taken only one class in the history of art have been taught to see by Alex, and taught to value what they see.” In 2009, Professor Nemerov was appointed chair of the Department of the History of Art at Yale University, and in 2010 he was named to an endowed professorship.

In 2012, Professor Nemerov accepted the position of Carl and Marilynn Thoma Provostial Professor in the Arts and Humanities at Stanford University. His classes are some of the largest humanities classes at the university. Both graduate and undergraduate students praise him as an enthusiastic teacher, a dedicated mentor, and a humane critic whose meditations on visual art develop in them a deeper way of seeing, making real-world experiences more immediate, powerful, and meaningful. His doctoral advisees have gone on to important positions in universities and museums throughout the United States.

Over the course of his career, Professor Nemerov has published eight highly regarded books, including the acclaimed Acting in the Night: Macbeth and the Places of the Civil War, considered startlingly original for its holistic reading of the Civil War through the prismatic lens of a single night’s performance of Macbeth in Washington, D.C. attended by President Lincoln. The relationship between his father, the celebrated poet Howard Nemerov, and his aunt, iconic photographer Diane Arbus, and their significance in his own formation as a poet of art history, is the subject of Silent Dialogues: Diane Arbus and Howard Nemerov. His most recent book, Summoning Pearl Harbor, reflects on how and why we remember the past and whether or not the past wants to be remembered. He has authored more than thirty articles and essays for peer-reviewed journals, including American Art, Art History, and Critical Inquiry; and has curated three exhibitions at national museums, each accompanied by a catalogue under his authorship. In spring of 2017, Professor Nemerov gave the 66th annual Andrew W. Mellon Lectures at the National Gallery of Art, becoming the first speaker in the history of the series to speak on American art.

Professor Nemerov leads his audiences to a rich and nuanced understanding of American culture through intuitive analysis and appreciation of aesthetic expressions across a wide range of genres; his work encourages us to look for those connections ourselves. His teaching, writing, and curating reflect a profound belief in the enduring importance of the arts and humanities to a thoughtful, authentic, and deeply moving life.

JOHN E. ABELE
Doctor of Science, honoris causa

John Abele is a world-class disruptor and has powerful examples to prove it. The retired founding chairman of Boston Scientific, Mr. Abele has radically changed the culture of medicine through technological and educational innovations, developing some of the first-to-market devices to treat life-damaging conditions of the heart, brain, lungs, and body systems, diminishing the need for invasive surgeries and reducing recovery time. Along the way his inventions have also reduced risk, trauma, and cost and improved the quality of life.

Mr. Abele received his bachelor’s degree in physics and philosophy from Amherst College, Class of 1959. He found his passion for novel technology development in 1960 when he began working as a sales engineer with a small medical company that developed and marketed unique laboratory instruments and began selling some of the first pacemakers.
After helping start Medi-tech in 1969 using catheters to develop alternatives to traditional surgery, Mr. Abele co-founded Boston Scientific in 1979 with Peter Nicholas to acquire Medi-tech and significantly expand this vision. The goal was to bring accessible and non-invasive medical options to market, and with a business plan that included winning the support of physicians and others in the medical community to shift a very resistant culture towards less invasive therapies. Working with many different medical specialties, they helped evolve the live demonstration course, a powerful new educational system that improved collaboration and both accelerated and improved the competence of the early practitioners of these counterintuitive new techniques.

One of the most well-known of those techniques involves treatments for heart disease, such as the angioplasty dilation balloon and stent. Today, Boston Scientific offers more than 13,000 products affecting the health and lives of over 26 million people each year across more than 100 countries. Their innovations have revolutionized how technology interfaces with medicine to benefit patients and public health.

A self-described non-linear or "eco" thinker, Mr. Abele traces the origin of his thinking to his three years as a child spent in and out of a body cast recovering from osteomyelitis. Since retiring from Boston Scientific in 2005, he has devoted himself to a second career as a philanthropist, venture capitalist, and professional tinkerer. His major interests include science literacy for children, environmental sustainability and alternative energy, education, and the process by which new technology is invented, developed, and introduced to society. Through the Argosy Foundation, which he founded in 1997, Mr. Abele and his family have given well over $100 million in grants to nonprofits working across a spectrum of challenges and opportunities in our communities and the environment. The foundation encourages cross-disciplinary collaboration, reflecting Mr. Abele's lifelong interest in helping groups of people to become "collectively intelligent."

While the Argosy Foundation is eclectic in its grantmaking, a few projects receive favorite status. One of those is FIRST, the nonprofit founded by Segway inventor Dean Kamen. FIRST is known worldwide for its fun and inventive programs for kids from kindergarten to high school—including FIRST Tech Challenge, FIRST Robotics Competition, and FIRST Lego League—that introduce children as young as six years old to science and engineering thinking through exciting and collaborative play and problem solving.

Not only is Mr. Abele a committed donor to FIRST, he served as chairman for 8 years and now serves as vice chair of the board. Promoting the benefits of K-12 project-based learning outside the classroom—benefits for the students and the state—Mr. Abele was instrumental in encouraging UVM to take the lead in hosting the FIRST Tech Challenge in Vermont, in 2013. Vermont now enters teams from across the state to national FIRST Tech Challenges, fielding eight teams this year from eight different schools. Mr. Abele is also a founder and a primary supporter of the Champlain Mini Maker Faire. Now in its sixth year, the Champlain Mini Maker Faire has spurred similar events around the state, exposing students and adults alike to the excitement and possibilities within the STEM fields.

Another current project, at the confluence of technology and cooperation, is the Kingbridge Conference Center and Institute. The retreat center outside Toronto for educators, scientists, and corporate leaders endeavors to dissolve barriers to effective collaboration and develop improved methods for interactive learning and conferencing. The for-profit Kingbridge Center is self-sustaining, underscoring a guiding mission to create "change-the-world" businesses. Further proof of this commitment are Mr. Abele's investments in a "sniffer" device that can identify infections in plants or humans, an educational technology startup helping teachers and students to interact online, and a medical device using magnetics to treat depression—to name a few.

Mr. Abele serves the University of Vermont as an advisory board member to the College of Engineering and Mathematical Sciences. He has received numerous awards throughout his career in recognition of his visionary innovations, his leadership, and his achievements. Among those are the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Gold Medal Award, the society's highest award for eminently distinguished engineering achievement; the Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation Leadership and Achievement Award; the Society of American Gastrointestinal and Endoscopic Surgeons Pioneer in Endoscopy Award; and honorary degrees from four other colleges and universities.

Inventor, provocateur, businessman, philanthropist—John Abele’s dedication to advancing humanity through creative collaboration, disruptive direction, and spirited exchange knows no bounds. His visionary and ecological approach to ideating and problem solving is profoundly shaping next-generation possibilities in health care, technology, education, climate remediation, and collective human connection.

FRANK A. BOLDEN
Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

Frank A. Bolden, University of Vermont Class of 1963, appears to direct his professional and personal lives guided by one profound question: “How might I help?” His areas of service span country and community, business and academics, the arts and religion. A strategic leader and active community member, he has left an indelible mark on the many arenas of public life in which he is engaged.
Mr. Bolden had an illustrative career at the University of Vermont, where he embodied the student-athlete model for which the UVM Catamounts have become so widely recognized. He balanced academic work with service as a residence-hall counselor and an ROTC cadet and devotion to the UVM Catamounts. Known for his consistently aggressive and effective play on defense and his ability to catch the tough pass or make the key block on offense, Mr. Bolden received numerous honors in football while at UVM and is a member of the UVM Athletic Hall of Fame.

After graduation, Mr. Bolden served in the United States Army as an Airborne Ranger Infantry Officer, with tours in Germany, the United States, and South Vietnam. In 1969, he entered Columbia University as a graduate student in business and law. A Martin Luther King, Jr., Charles Evans Hughes, Woodrow Wilson, and C.O.G.M.E. fellow, he was also vice-president of the Black American Law Students Association and a defensive line coach for Columbia University’s freshman football team. He graduated from Columbia University in 1972 with Masters of Business Administration and Juris Doctorate degrees.

Beginning his professional career with the prominent international law firm Cahill Gordon, Mr. Bolden later joined the corporate law department at Johnson & Johnson. He became secretary of Johnson & Johnson in 1984 and was promoted to vice-president in 1987. In 2000, he was named Vice President, Diversity Worldwide, with the mission of making Johnson & Johnson the employer of choice in the health care industry.

Mr. Bolden brought his strategic acumen, corporate leadership experience, and global diversity perspective to his alma mater when he joined the University of Vermont Board of Trustees in 1994, where he served on the Executive Committee, the University Advancement Committee, and as Vice Chair of the Educational Policy Committee. Honored for his steadfast commitment to enhancing the quality of the University, as well as modeling values of respect, patience, and the highest ethical behavior, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees from 1998 to 2000 he was a strong voice for building diversity at UVM. Service to his alma mater runs deep; in addition to his trusteeship, Mr. Bolden also served on the Medical Dean’s Advisory Board and on the advisory committee for the UVM School of Business, as well as on the New York Regional Alumni Board. He is currently a member of the UVM Foundation Leadership Council. His loyal, unselfish, and dedicated volunteer service to his alma mater was acknowledged with the Alumni Association’s Distinguished Service Award in 2002.

Giving back to and promoting a culture of excellence in the field of education, Mr. Bolden has also chaired the Board of Trustees for Union County Community College in his home state of New Jersey and served as a board member of Moorestown College and on the advisory committee for Florida A&M’s School of Business. In health care, he served as Chairman of the Board of Overlook Hospital, a hospital leader in neuroscience care, and on the boards of Atlantic Health System and the National Medical Fellowships.

A patron and supporter of the arts, Mr. Bolden has selflessly given his time and talents to theatre and opera. He is a former chair of Crossroads Theatre, the visionary African American theatre in New Brunswick, New Jersey, which has become a premier theatre experience and an integral part of the Rutgers University-New Brunswick Tomorrow redevelopment. He is a former vice president of the New Jersey State Opera and a former trustee of the State Theater in New Brunswick. He has also served on many state and local boards and task forces, including the State of New Jersey Banking Advisory Board, the Task Force for Gender Equity in the State of New Jersey, and the Governor’s Commission on State Equity.

A man of deep faith and a lived motto of putting Christ’s spirit into action, Mr. Bolden currently chairs the national board of directors for the United Church of Christ, the ecumenical Protestant denomination emphasizing social justice, human rights, and global ministry.

Through his dedication to fostering excellence, inclusion, and humanity in organizations across the spectrum of community life, Frank Bolden has distinguished himself as a quietly charismatic and compassionate leader shaping a future of appreciation for the gifts we share and the differences that define us.

J. BROOKS BUXTON
Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa

J. Brooks Buxton, University of Vermont Class of 1956, exemplifies the engagement with and dedication to learning that the University of Vermont endeavors to instill in all its students. After graduating from UVM with a Bachelor of Arts, Mr. Buxton attended the Law School at the University of Virginia before setting out to make his career, first in New York and then overseas. For more than forty years, the sixth-generation Vermonter immersed himself in the language, cultures, and history of the Middle East and North Africa while working professionally in finance and then in the international oil and gas industry.

Living and working in Lebanon, the United Arab Emirates, Libya, Tunisia, and Saudi Arabia, as well as London, Mr. Buxton developed a deep appreciation for the aesthetics of the region in which he lived. He retired from Conoco Phillips in 2003 as president of Conoco Arabia Inc., Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, and director of Conoco Middle East Ltd., London and Dubai. His collection of Orientalist paintings, Islamic art, and 19th. century photography of the Middle East and North Africa is perhaps unrivaled by any other private Vermont collection.

In addition to Mr. Buxton's extensive Middle East acquisitions, when living in London he built a distinguished collection of modern British art. But that was not his only extracurricular pursuit in the United Kingdom. After a rare non-trauma spinal cord injury in the 1990s left his lower body paralyzed, Mr. Buxton grew aware of the challenges of public access and became an advocate for accessibility, lobbying Parliament and contributing to spinal-cord-injury research during his time in London.

Mr. Buxton retired to his native Vermont in 2003, after over 40 years of working abroad. Since his return to Vermont he has refocused assiduously on assembling an extensive collection of paintings depicting the agricultural and architectural landscape of Vermont from the 18th to 20th century, as well as selected pieces by 21st-century contemporary artists of the region. It is an invaluable record of the Vermont landscape and considered to be the most extensive artistic representation of Vermont's agricultural and pastoral heritage in existence. He has generously bequeathed the collection to the University of Vermont's Fleming Museum of Art. With the University's strong focus on environmental research and applied learning, this collection provides a trove of primary source material for study across many disciplines.

Mr. Buxton's attention to building an authentic and historic record of Vermont is not limited to artistic renderings. Historical documents, books and maps of the region, and Vermont period furniture and decorative arts are all part of the state's collective memory that he is dedicated to gathering and preserving. He is a premier patron of Bailey/Howe Library Special Collections, and has, for many decades, given very limited edition art books from internationally recognized artists.

Mr. Buxton's service as a patron and public servant is targeted and specific. At the University of Vermont he generously underwrote the renovation of the Fleming Museum's elegant Marble Court and the installation of wood floors in the museum's first-floor galleries. He shows the same hands-on approach as a philanthropist to other state institutions, including the Vermont Historical Society, where he serves as a trustee, acquiring major important pieces and filling gaps in the Society's collection.

Mr. Buxton currently chairs the Board of Advisors at the Fleming Museum of Art. He was a founding member of the UVM Foundation Board of Directors and is a current member of the Foundation Leadership Council. Mr. Buxton also serves as a trustee at the Shelburne Museum, the Vermont Historical Society, the Friends of the State House, and the Jericho Historical Society. He is a retired advisor of the University of Vermont College of Engineering; the Middle East Center

The University of Vermont strives to prepare its students to become engaged citizens of our UVM community and of the world. Through his dedication to high-quality historic preservation, his passion for art and beauty, and his generosity—for UVM, for Vermont, and for the larger world community—J. Brooks Buxton is forging a lasting legacy that will benefit UVM students and Vermonters for generations to come.

KAREN NYSTROM MEYER
Doctor of Laws, honoris causa

Karen Nystrom Meyer, University of Vermont Class of 1970, has devoted her decades-long career to advancing policy and practice in essential matters of the commons. A skilled consensus builder and problem solver, she has improved the lives of countless Vermont citizens by skillfully brokering innovative initiatives in complex political environments to advance affordable housing, health care quality, community vitality, land planning and conservation, and disaster recovery, among others. Her prodigious efforts have benefited people and communities all across Vermont.

Educated in public schools in Virginia, Ms. Meyer studied geography at the University of Vermont and pursued executive program studies at Harvard University’s Kennedy School of Public Administration. She distinguished herself as a trailblazer early in her long and honorable public service career. After serving as a congressional aide to then-Congressman James Jeffords and as legislative director for the Vermont League of Cities and Towns, Ms. Meyer joined Governor Madeleine Kunin’s administration in 1985 as Commissioner of Housing and Community Affairs, where she worked to improve community planning and development and increase the availability of affordable housing for Vermonters. As commissioner, Ms. Meyer was instrumental in the founding of the Vermont Housing and Conservation Board, which has become a national model for affordable housing and forest, farm, and land preservation.

In 1988, Ms. Meyer was appointed Executive Vice President of the Vermont Medical Society, a private professional-membership organization of Vermont physicians with the mission of advancing policies to promote the health and well-being of Vermonters through the medical profession and physician practices. The first woman to be named as chief executive of a state medical society in the United States, she was instrumental in founding a leading-edge statewide program for health care improvement. The Vermont Program for Quality in Health Care was established to design and implement continuous quality improvement programs, using education, measurement, and collaboration to ensure that Vermonters receive equitable, excellent, and patient-centered care.

In 1991, Governor Richard Snelling appointed Ms. Meyer vice-chair of the Governor’s Blue Ribbon Commission on Health Care, a policy group appointed to develop legislative and regulatory health policy reform plans for the 1992 legislative session. The commission's efforts contributed to expanding public insurance coverage for women and children; creating a new state agency to oversee health policy, regulatory development, and implementation; and developing provisions for patient protection.

With her extensive experience in governmental relations and policy development, in 2001 Ms. Meyer joined the University of Vermont senior leadership team as chief of staff to UVM President Edwin Colodny. The following year she was named Vice President for State, Federal, and Community Relations, responsible for strategic planning and positioning and for developing and promoting university public policy goals. Ms. Meyer served the University of Vermont as a trustee from 1998 to 2001, providing practical guidance and thoughtful counsel in her work on committees, including the Academic and Student Programs Committee, the Sub-Committee on Health Education, and the Fletcher Allen Health Care Nominating Committee. She was also a founding member of the UVM Foundation Board of Directors and currently serves as a member of the Foundation Leadership Council and the National Campaign Executive Council.

Ms. Meyer has leveraged her extensive leadership and strategic planning expertise in service to nonprofit and corporate boards throughout the state. She is past chair of the Vermont Board of Medical Practice and the Vermont Community Foundation and served on the boards of the Key Bank of Vermont, the Snelling Center for Public Policy, and the United Way of Chittenden County. She tri-chaired the private Vermont Disaster Relief Fund initiative, which raised over $8 million in funds for Vermonters impacted by Tropical Storm Irene. Ms. Meyer chaired the Board of Directors of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Vermont for over a decade, leading Vermont’s independent, not-for-profit insurance company with a commitment to a transformed health care system, outstanding customer service, and responsible cost management for the health of all Vermonters.

Ms. Meyer currently serves as a founding board member and president of the National Well Home Network, a nonprofit that advocates an innovative approach to bringing health and wellness services to aging adults and people with disabilities living in subsidized housing. Ever the willing student, she devotes time as an archaeology research assistant for Palmetto Bluff Conservancy in South Carolina.

In addition to her skills as a leader, strategist, policy maker, and consensus builder, Ms. Meyer has won national and world dragon boat championships. She and her team, Dragonheart Vermont Sisters—all cancer survivors—competed in this ancient sport both on Lake Champlain and in races around the world.

Through her decades-long work in advancing policy for affordable housing, quality health care, and vital communities and in her dedicated service to governance of critical organizations throughout the state, Karen Nystrom Meyer exemplifies the common good that can be achieved by engaged citizenship. Her inspiration and dedication have advanced policy and improved life for people all around our state.

This award is given to the College’s graduating senior who has distinguished himself or herself through academic achievement and outstanding service. It is named in honor of former dean Lawrence K. Forcier, who served the college with distinction from 1991 to 1998.

Caitlin Beaudet

HONORS COLLEGE SCHOLARS IN THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND LIFE SCIENCES

Alexandra Keiko Attenasio, Thesis: Impact of Dietary Plant and Dairy-Derived Bioactive Fatty Acids on the Colonic Bacteria Structure and Host Glucose Homeostasis
Advisor: Jana Kraft, PhD

* Caitlin M. Beaudet, Thesis: The Dynamic Relationship Between Tumor Suppressor TRB and Tumor Promoter Erx in Thyroid Tumorigenesis
Advisor: Douglas Johnson, PhD

*Mariissa D. Carranza, Thesis: The relationship of financial resources and food security among female-headed households in Africa
Advisor: Meredith Niles, PhD

*Victoria E. Childs, Thesis: Establishing an inducible CRISPR/Cas9 glioblastoma line to study the effect of phosphorylation sites on protein kinase A
Advisor: Douglas Johnson, PhD

*Alexa M. Dahler, Thesis: Utilizing an Aspirin Seed Treatment to Control Damping Off on Common Bush Bean and Red Radish
Advisor: Mark Starrett, PhD

*Amber R. Davis, Thesis: Growth Inhibition of Staphylococcus aureus by Plant Derived Essential Oils
Advisor: John Barlow, PhD

*Julie R. Fosburg, Thesis: Sequence-based characterization of the Type I Restriction Modification System in S. aureus
Advisor: John Barlow, PhD

*Stephanie R. Geiger, Thesis: Bioinformatic and Biochemical Analyses Identify WPB-2 as a Novel CrkL-SH2 Interacting Partner
Advisor: Mary Tierney, PhD

Mahalaya Martha Gernert-Dott, Thesis: A Survey of Problematic Behaviors in Recently Adopted Dogs
Advisor: Stephanie McKay, PhD

*Anisha Mahalaya Gogerly-Moragoda, Thesis: Detection of Ligands for Human Synovial Gamma Delta T Cells
Advisor: Ralph Budd, MD

*Ivonne R. Headley, Thesis: Positive and negative experiences associated with Cash Value Vouchers redemption among a sample of Spanish-speaking participants in Arizona
Advisor: Farryl Bertmann, PhD

*Tyler Hogan, Thesis: Characterizing the Effects of PKA and SFK on Invasion and Migration of Glioblastoma
Advisor: Brenda Tessmann, MS

Samantha Isabelle Howley, Thesis: An Assessment and Proposal for Watershed Land Management
Advisor: Don Ross, PhD

Joyce Huang, Thesis: College Students and Cooking: Exploring How Food Agency Learned Through Lab Affects Meal Choices
Advisor: Amy Trubek, PhD

*Josh M. Laffin, Thesis: MCI Restricts ABC Transporter Function by Limiting Mitochondrial ATP Production
Advisor: Mercedes Rincon, PhD

Mary McCaslin Loomis, Thesis: Where Humans are Tree: Stories of Family and Land
Advisor: Ernesto Mendez, PhD

Frank Lyon, Thesis: Workout: Progress in Motion
Advisors: Kelly Hamshaw, MS; Rasheda Weaver, PhD

*Emily J. Millar, Thesis: The Interplay of Salt and Abscisic Acid on Infection and Nodulation in the Medicago-Sinorhizobium Symbiosis
Advisor: Jeanne Harris, PhD

*Victoria E. Primavera, Thesis: Establishing an inducible CRISPR/Cas9 glioblastoma line to study the effect of phosphorylation sites on protein kinase A
Advisor: Matthew Wargo, PhD

Willa Carolin Richmond, Thesis: Culturing, Identifying, and Pathogenic Risk Assessment of Compost with Known Antimicrobial Resistance Genes
Advisor: John Barlow, PhD

*Justine A. Samuel, Thesis: The effect of non host plant volatiles on pheromone detection in swede midgets
Advisor: John Barlow, PhD

*Priyanka Santhanakrishnan, Thesis: The Interplay of Labeling on the Activation of Health Halos
Advisor: Lizzy Pope, PhD

Addison G. Spitzer, Thesis: Diet and Ambient Temperature are Associated with Abundance of 2 Fecal Bacteria of Lactating Dairy Cattle Grazing Different Forages
Advisor: John Barlow, PhD

Julia Ricki Fang Weisz, Thesis: Effect of Cytokeratin-18 Inhibition on Proliferation of Cervical Cancer (SiHA) Cells
Advisor: David Townsend, PhD

*Jessica P. Ziesel, Thesis: Examining Cultural Considerations of Chittenden County, Vermont Grocery Retailers When Stocking Products
Advisor: Farryl Bertmann, PhD

* Student is also graduating with College Honors: Distinguished Undergraduate Research

COMMENCEMENT 2018
COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND LIFE SCIENCES HONORS:
DISTINGUISHED UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

Amanda A. Adams, Microbiology and Molecular Genetics, Thesis: Identifying PKA interactors during PDGFR-mediated signaling
Mentor: Douglas Johnson, PhD

Morgan E. McNellis, Microbiology and Molecular Genetics
Department, Thesis: Expression of Collapsin Response Mediator Proteins in the vertebrate visual system and their roles in the eye development
Mentor: Brenda Tessmann, MS

Shawn C. Musial, Microbiology and Molecular Genetics Department, Thesis: The role of SLAMF4 on innate-like γδ T cell function and development
Mentor: Matthew Wargo, PhD

Morgan R. Schiksnis, Animal and Veterinary Science Department, Thesis: Dietary Interventions to Reduce the Risk of Developing Liver Disease
Mentor: Jana Kraft, PhD

Lisa M. Wood, Microbiology and Molecular Genetics Department, Thesis: Triple Negative Breast Cancer Cells are Sensitive to the Inhibition of the Mitotic Kinesin Kif18A
Mentor: Brenda Tessmann, MS

DEPARTMENT OF ANIMAL AND VETERINARY SCIENCES

ELMER TOWNE AWARD presented annually by the Vermont Dairy Industry Association to that student whose work in the field of Dairy Science shows the greatest promise for providing the quality leadership exemplified by Elmer E. Towne in his life of service to the Dairy Industry.

Jonas Hastings
Matthew Montgomery

DONALD J. BALCH AWARD presented annually to that student making the greatest contribution to the equine or companion animal activities of the Department of Animal Science.

Emily Brink
Mollie Horan

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF ANIMAL SCIENCE AWARD presented annually to Seniors whose academic record, scholastic efforts and character warrant recognition as the future leaders in the field of Animal Sciences. Graduating seniors named to the society are:

Willa Richmond

BRETT KLEIN MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP presented to the CREAM Student Herd Advisors for Summer 2017, Fall 2017 and Spring 2018 with a big thanks for their time and effort! The award is presented for their dedication, responsible leadership, and friendly attitude that Brett exemplified as a 1990 CREAMer as well as for their excellence in teaching and advising the CREAMers and in passing on the CREAM tradition!

Alison C. Griffin
Samantha J. Driscoll
Morgan R. Schiksnis

ANIMAL AND VETERINARY SCIENCES FACULTY AWARD in recognition of scholastic performance, outstanding achievements in undergraduate research, and service to the Department of Animal and Veterinary Sciences.

Eleni Casseri

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND APPLIED ECONOMICS

COMMUNITY ENTREPRENEURSHIP AWARD presented to the graduating senior(s) with the highest scholastic grade point average in recognition of their continuous academic excellence and outstanding professional potential.

Timothy Jordan
Elizabeth Schumacher

PUBLIC COMMUNICATION AWARD presented to the graduating senior(s) with the highest scholastic grade point average in recognition of their continuous academic excellence and outstanding professional potential.

Audrey Plante

SCHOLASTIC RECOGNITION of the top ten percent of seniors with a major in Community Development and Applied Economics based on cumulative grade point average.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

CONSTRUCTIVIST EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATOR AWARD
given to the undergraduate student who consistently fosters a brave and progressive approach to early education that upholds the values of social constructivism. This student endeavors to make teaching an inspired opportunity for children to make meaning and be an agent of their own experience. This student ensures that teaching and learning are socially relevant, passion-based, active and innovative.

Samantha Suzanne Elgin

COLLABORATION AND PROFESSIONALISM EARLY CHILDHOOD AWARD
given to the undergraduate student who demonstrates outstanding teaming skills and professionalism in the classroom. This student’s interactions with children, family members and colleagues are characterized by shared leadership, mutual respect, responsiveness and a great spirit of collaboration. This student personifies the value in early education that “None of us is smarter than all of us.” (anonymous)

Blakely Young Gilmore

DISTINGUISHED PRACTITIONER EARLY CHILDHOOD SPECIAL EDUCATION AWARD
given to the undergraduate student who consistently embodies a positive, strength-based attitude in the face of complex and often challenging work. Interactions with children, family members and colleagues are characterized by warmth, amiability and cultural competence, which serves as an inspiration to others.

Kimberlie Dusseldorp

LEADERSHIP AND ADVOCACY EARLY CHILDHOOD SPECIAL EDUCATION AWARD
given to the undergraduate student who demonstrates outstanding leadership and advocacy. This student promotes social justice and inclusion through collaborative consultation and innovation in working on behalf of young children with disabilities and their families.

Azaria Gaudreau

PAGLIARO AWARD
given to a student who has an excellent academic record and who has secured a teaching position in K-6 education prior to graduation. The award is in honor of Bonnie Pagliaro who has been a Kindergarten teacher for 41 years. The award comes with a stipend to help the student transition from graduation to employment, and begin their career.

Sarah Forman

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AWARD
given to students who have consistently demonstrated high academic achievement, outstanding performance in the classroom with regard to management, planning and professionalism.

Brianna Tyler Welch
Alice Catherine Woodruff

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION DIVERSITY AWARD
given to senior students whose outstanding work especially exemplifies the program theme: Teaching All Children Strategically in Diverse Communities. These students have an awareness of the unique contributions of each child in the classroom, and a commitment to include and celebrate diversity.

Megan Roop
Elise Corinne Thompson

JOHN DEWEY IN ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AWARD
given to students whose academic performance and public school practice exemplify the philosophy of Vermont’s well known philosopher/educator. A demonstrated belief that children are active participants in, rather than passive receivers of education.

Margaret Rachel Gish
Hannah Drew Tobey
LEADERSHIP FOR SOCIAL CHANGE ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AWARD bestowed upon two students in the Elementary Education Program at the University of Vermont who exemplify a spirit of social justice. These students exhibit the qualities necessary to create change for children and families toward a more just and equitable future. Students who receive this award are celebrated as they have gone above and beyond serving in schools and/or the larger community as champions for social justice, and have the potential for true, transformative leadership.

Grace M. Colbert
Alexis Marie Kelly

AL MYERS EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD presented to the individuals who exemplify Al Myers’ dedication to the field of middle level education and his deep commitment to students. Recipients of this award demonstrate commitment, passion, patience, work ethic, creativity and enthusiasm for constructing exemplary learning opportunities for young adolescents.

Megan Olivia Bishop
Henry R. Shepley, MAT

CHRIS STEVENSON AWARD FOR COMMITMENT TO YOUNG ADOLESCENTS given on an annual basis to the student who demonstrates the dedication and commitment to middle level students, exemplified in the work of the program's founder, Chris Stevenson. Recipients of the award are advocates for young adolescents; they understand the developmental uniqueness of young adolescents and are as knowledgeable about their students as they are about the subject areas that they teach.

Evelyn Soling Gray
Jack S. Peisch, MAT

SCHOLAR-PRACTITIONER MIDDLE LEVEL EDUCATION AWARD given on an annual basis to a student who demonstrates academic excellence in his or her academic areas of concentration. Recipients of the award understand how to translate rigorous content into meaningful learning experiences for young adolescents.

Danielle N. Liguori, MAT

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT SECONDARY EDUCATION AWARD given to graduating seniors who have demonstrated outstanding performance throughout their time in the Secondary Education program, while also earning the highest grade point average.

Leslie Allison Drew
Zachary Spencer Nabors

JANET BOSSANGE AWARD FOR ADVOCACY AND ENGAGEMENT IN SECONDARY EDUCATION given to a graduating senior who has demonstrated an understanding of the power of engagement and advocacy in meeting the needs of all learners. The award is given in honor of a colleague who demonstrated through her teaching and field practice a commitment to the ideals of John Dewey. Dr. Janet Bossange spent her entire career focusing on the power of the individual in a democratic society. Janet believed that only through advocacy and engagement, could our teacher education candidates truly make a difference in the lives of all learners.

Amaal S. Abdelrahman

THE J.T. CALIBER AWARD established in the spring of 2014 to recognize students who embody the values of the Secondary Education program. Students who demonstrate perseverance, a commitment to improving professional practice, a student-centered and creative approach to teaching, and a sense of humor are eligible recipients for this award.

Rachel Julia Henning

OUTSTANDING ART EDUCATION STUDENT AWARD given to the student who embodies the highest academic and field work achievement. This student demonstrates a commitment to providing and advocating for rich visual art experiences that enrich the lives of individual students, schools, and community. Academic achievement throughout their college years is highly considered, but student work in the field and their general contribution to the spirit of the Art Education Program is also considered.

Christina Nicole Bruno

LYMAN ROWELL AWARD: OUTSTANDING SENIOR IN MUSIC EDUCATION given to graduating seniors in Music Education who have among the highest overall GPA, who show a strong capacity for music teaching, and who have made an outstanding contribution to the musical life of the department.

Albert J. Banach III

SAURMAN MEMORIAL AWARD is presented to a Higher Education and Student Affairs Administration graduate student who has a) shown a record of outstanding achievement; b) demonstrated ability to make outstanding future professional contributions at both local and national levels; c) demonstrated future ability to make outstanding intellectual contribution to the field in the areas of research and scholarship; d) shown evidence of having fostered a sense of community and cooperation among peers, staff, and faculty; and e) shown evidence of outstanding contribution to the University through internship and practical experience.

Angelique K. Adams

HIGHER EDUCATION AND STUDENT AFFAIRS VOICE OF PASSION AWARD honors the contribution of a graduate student in the Higher Education and Student Affairs Administration program who demonstrates an outspoken passion for issues of leadership and social justice. Individuals who receive this award have shown strong communication and mentoring skills in their professional roles in our campus community.

Veronica Y. Fields

THE FACULTY CUP IN EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP awarded annually to the student who demonstrates outstanding participation, academic performance, and commitment to program initiatives.

Alice A. Rodgers

GEORGE WASHINGTON HENDERSON ASPIRING PRINCIPAL AWARD established in tribute to the memory of George Washington Henderson (Class of 1877), who was among the first African American students to graduate from the University of Vermont and become a school administrator. This award is given by faculty in the Educational Leadership and Policy Studies Program to a graduating master's student who demonstrates a keen understanding of social justice issues and aspires to become a school administrator.

Francesca R. Dupuis

GRADUATE AWARD IN EDUCATION AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS presented by faculty to two master's students who best exemplify an understanding of integrated education public affairs. This award signifies a core tenet of the Graduate Program in Educational Leadership and Policy Studies, that high quality educational services must be administered in partnership with other health, mental and human services.

Benjamin C. Kennedy
Mandy L. Wooster

THE HERMAN B. MEYERS EXCELLENCE IN DOCTORAL POLICY RESEARCH AWARD honors the legacy of “Bud” Meyers, a professor in Educational Leadership and Policy Studies from 1971 to 2008, Vermont Deputy Commissioner of Education from 2000 to 2006, and who served as Director of the James M. Jeffords Center for Policy Research from 2009 to 2013. This award is presented annually to a student whose dissertation research demonstrates outstanding achievement in the area of policy studies. Through the dissertation writing process, the recipient of this award best demonstrates the legacy of scholarship and research that contributes to the advancement of educational or social services policy and practice.

Jonathan C. Reidel

OUTSTANDING DISSERTATION AWARD IN EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP recognizes a student whose dissertation research significantly advances new ideas and contributes to the knowledge and understanding of theories and practices in the field of Educational Leadership. The award is given to a student who exhibits a keen understanding of social justice issues and whose research contributes to the College of Education and Social Services' doctoral programs mission of preparing leaders who will contribute to creating more equitable and just schools and institutions of higher learning.

Jennifer L. Stainton

SUSAN BRODY HASAZI DOCTORAL DISSERTATION AWARD honors the legacy of Dr. Susan B. Hasazi, a professor of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies, from 1976 to 2010. Dr. Hasazi’s leadership and groundbreaking research brought national attention to the needs of children with disabilities and their families, which in turn led to improved outcomes and increased access to high quality services in education, health and human service agencies. Through the dissertation writing process, the recipient of this award best demonstrates the legacy of scholarship and educational leadership pioneered by Dr. Hasazi.

ANIMAL SCIENCE

Korin Eckstrom, Barton, NY
BS, The University of Vermont 2015
Thesis: Evaluating the Resistome and Microbial Composition During Food Waste Feeding and Composting on a Vermont Poultry Farm
Advisor: Dr. John Barlow

Salvador Ordaz Puga, Torreon, Mexico
MVZ, Universidad Autonoma Agraria Antonio Narro 2014
Thesis: Fibrolytic Enzymes and Silage Inoculants to Improve the Nutritive Value of Silage
Advisor: Dr. Sabrina L. Greenwood

Richard Anthony Scuderi, Post Falls, ID
BS, University of Idaho 2015
Thesis: The Effects of Diet on the Bovine Milk Proteome
Advisor: Dr. Sabrina L. Greenwood

BIOCHEMISTRY

Jared Hammer, Bedford, NH
BS, The University of Vermont 2016
Thesis: Changes in Threonyl-tRNA Synthetase Expression and Secretion in Response to Endoplasmic Reticulum Stress by Monensin in Ovarian Cancer Cell
Advisor: Dr. Christopher S. Francklyn

BIOLOGY

Brendan Chandler, Ithaca, NY
BS, University of New York at Plattsburgh 2011
Thesis: The SH2 Domain-Containing Adaptor Protein SHD Reversibly Binds the CRKL-SH2 Domain and Knockdown of SHDB Impairs Zebrafish Eye Development
Advisor: Dr. Bryan A. Ballif

Katie Ann Miller, Minneapolis, MN
BS, University of St. Thomas 2012
Thesis: Nutritional Ecology of Aphaenogaster Ants in Response to Climate Change
Advisor: Dr. Sara Helms Cahan

Helaina R. Stergas, Johnstown, NY
BS, The University of Vermont 2017
Thesis: ‘Crk’-ing the Code: The Role of Crk Adaptor Proteins in Zebrafish Eye Development
Advisor: Dr. Alicia M. Ebert

BIOSTATISTICS

Samuel Thatcher Brown, Williston, VT
BS, The University of Vermont 2016

Corey Evans, Worcester, VT

CELLULAR, MOLECULAR AND BIOMEDICAL SCIENCES
Mark P. Fitzgerald, Brookfield, CT
BA, Western Connecticut State University 2011
Thesis: Evidence for the Involvement of RUNX1 and RUNX2 in Maintenance of the Breast Cancer Stem Cell Phenotype
Advisor: Dr. Gary S. Stein

Peibin Wo, Colchester, VT
BS, Zhejiang University 2002; MD, Hebei Medical University 2012
Thesis: Assessment of a Function for Threonyl-tRNA Synthetase in Angiogenesis in a Mouse Ovarian Cancer Model
Advisor: Dr. Karen M. Lounsbury

CHEMISTRY
Michael Aaron Vrolijk, Houston, TX
BA, California College of the Arts 2008; MA, San Francisco State University 2011
Thesis: Silica Nanoparticles for the Delivery of DNA and RNAi in Cancer Treatment
Advisor: Dr. Christopher C. Landry

CIVIL AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING
Brent Barenberg, San Ramon, CA
BS, University of Illinois Champaign-Urbana
Jason Christopher Bradley, Burlington, VT
BS, The University of Vermont 2015
Lea Nicole Martin, Westford, VT
BS, The University of Vermont 2017
Laura Obregon, Bogota, Colombia
BS, The University of Vermont 2014
Thesis: Generating and Measuring Prescribed Levels of Cohesion in Soil Simulants in Support of Extraterrestrial Terramechanics Research
Advisor: Dr. Mandar Dewoolkar

COMMUNICATION SCIENCES AND DISORDERS
Morgan Nicole Bailey, Boscawen, NH
BS, University of New Hampshire 2016
Lauren Jeanne Marie Burningham, Macklin, Canada

Honor Societies and Scholars Programs

PHI BETA KAPPA
Phi Beta Kappa, a national honor society dedicated to honoring high academic achievement for liberal arts students, was founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776. It is the nation’s first Greek-letter society and is the oldest and most respected academic honorary society. UVM’s chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the Alpha of Vermont, was established in 1848; it is the first chapter to admit both African-Americans and women to its membership.

Academic Regalia

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME worn today in U.S. colleges and universities is a survivor of the Middle Ages. The University of Vermont was among the first in this country to experiment with the use of academic gowns, requiring their wearing at the graduation of 1806. The experiment was not repeated until mid-century when UVM and other colleges began wholeheartedly to use the medieval scholar's clothing for ceremonial occasions.

The code regulating academic costume is administered by an intercollegiate commission that establishes uniform standards. BACHELORS' gowns have closed fronts and long, pointed sleeves. MASTERS' gowns may be worn open or closed and have oblong sleeves open at the wrist, the lower portion hanging down with an arc near the bottom. DOCTORS' gowns may be open or closed and have velvet facings and three velvet bars on the round, open sleeves. The facings and bars may be of black or of the official colors of the wearer's department of learning.

Hoods are usually black. All are lined in silk in the academic color or colors of the institution conferring the degree, with a chevron for additional colors. A University of Vermont hood is lined with green, with a gold chevron, the official school colors. The color of the hood border indicates the degree earned.

THE BLACK MORTARBOARD is worn for all degrees. Only Doctors’ caps may be made of velvet and only Doctors or Presidents of institutions may wear a gold tassel on the cap.

THE CLASS OF 1927 MEMORIAL MACE is carried by the University Marshal at formal university occasions and is displayed on the platform during these ceremonies.

The Mace, a gift from the Class of 1927, is forty-seven inches long, cast bronze, plated in silver, with a black ebony handle. The sculpture on one of the four sides depicts the center section of Old Mill with Mt. Mansfield in the background, symbolizing the founding of the University. Other sides display three students reaching upwards to a lamp, symbolic of learning; the Ira Allen Chapel, symbolizing spiritual guidance; and a group of four persons, symbolizing friendship. It is crowned by the seal of the University.

The Mace was designed and the model sculpted by Richard Simpson, son of Carl G. and Doris Griffith Simpson, both members of the Class of 1927.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL or Medallion was adopted in 1807 and used until 1871 when it was replaced by a round seal incorporating the name of the College of Agriculture. In 1975 the Board of Trustees voted to restore the original seal to official use, modified to incorporate the Latin name of the College of Agriculture.

The motto on the seal is from Horace, Epistles 1.2.36. Literally, it means “For virtuous studies and matters.” In the allusion to Horace's poem it reflects UVM's continuing belief in the utility and practicality of all liberal studies.
Univeritas V. Montis
Tune: Jane Oppenlander | Text: David Cox

From the lofty peaks of Mansfield to the shores of Lake Champlain, comes a mighty swelling chorus,
whose echo will remain:

Chorus
Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Thy loyal sons and daughters
sing in love and praise to Thee!

Repeat Chorus

Shadows falling 'cross the campus,
changing seasons' wond'rous scene,
stir our thoughts of Alma Mater,
and her colors Gold and Green:

Chorus
Vermont! Vermont! Vermont!
Our University!
Thy loyal sons and daughters
sing in love and praise to Thee!

Repeat Chorus
