

❖ FACULTY RESOURCE NETWORK 2019 ❖

Summer Seminars for UVM Faculty in the heart of Greenwich Village - June 10-14

A broad range of intensive seminars at New York University meant to enrich teaching and scholarship.

- Confronting Difficult Topics Through Classical Literature
- Critical and Creative Thinking
- Experiential Learning and the Student Managed Fund Program
- Human Rights and the Rights of Stateless Peoples
- Inside the Music: Critical Issues in Jazz, Blues, and Hip Hop
- Nursing Reimagined: Innovation in Nursing Education, Scholarship, and Practice
- Promoting Self-Regulated Learning
- Smart Phone Filmmaking
- Teaching for Social Justice Through Comics and Graphic Novels
- Teaching Writing Within the Disciplines: Conception, Representation, Mysteries, Essaying
- Using Digital Resources to Support Online Project-Based Learning
- Violent Energies: Extractivism and Women's Struggles in the Americas

APPLICATION DEADLINE
FEBRUARY 1, 2019

Plus

Summer Scholar-in-Residence Programs, New York, NY, June 3-28 (UVM application deadline Feb 1, 2019)

Fall Academic Year Scholar-in-Residence, New York, NY, fall 2019 (UVM application deadline Feb 1, 2019)

National Symposium 2019, Miami, FL Nov 22-23 (UVM application deadline April 12, 2019)

This resource is available to UVM faculty because we are a member of the FRN, a national consortium of over 50 colleges and universities, centered at New York University. The FRN programs are available to UVM tenure and non-tenure track faculty whose primary assignment is teaching, and who have at least a .75 FTE for nine months or more.

Visit www.uvm.edu/hrdma/frn to learn more and apply

Or call Professional Development & Training 802-656-5800