Title: University Name, Symbols, Letterhead and other Proprietary Indicia of Affiliation

Policy Statement

This policy describes permissible uses of the University Name, Symbols, Letterhead and other proprietary indicia of affiliation with the University.

The use and appearance of the University's name, logo, seal, letterhead, and other indicia of institutional affiliation ("Symbols") are governed by several principles:

- University Symbols are designed to advance the mission and reputation of the University in a manner that reflects its history and purpose and to strengthen and define its identity and name recognition. Consistency is critical to UVM's branding initiative.

- Trademarks identifying the University, its products, services, programs, or activities ("University Trademarks") are the property of the University, protected under state and federal trademark law. Unauthorized use of a University Trademark is an unlawful infringement of the mark.

- Symbols may not be used by members of the University community or external parties to imply UVM endorsement of individual or organization opinions, such as regarding political or religious issues.

- Symbols may be used only in connection with UVM programs and activities and under no circumstances for outside non-professional activities, or outside professional activities engaged in primarily for private purposes.

Reason for the Policy

This Policy is designed to establish general expectations and rules associated with the use of the University's Symbols.
