

THE University of Vermont
POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATION

PRESENTS

MENTORSHIP AND COMMUNICATION SKILLS

Thursday, September 19th

3:00 - 6:00 PM

Billings-Ira Allen Lecture Hall I110

3:00 - 4:00 PM: "A REASON FOR BEING - AND SUCCESS!"

Oleh Kaarmik

Talent Development Specialist, Professional Development & Training

An engaging learning experience (re)uncovering your professional value proposition, from someone who experientially knows how it feels to be "in-between", not fully "here" not fully "there" – and discovering the importance of uncovering and highlighting one's value proposition.

4:00 - 5:00 PM: "THE POWER OF MENTORING: WHAT, WHY AND HOW"

Charlie Irvin, Ph.D.

Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine

A seminar designed to enhance your mentoring skills based on nationally recognized best practice! Charles G. Irvin, Ph.D. is a Professor of Medicine, Physiology and Biophysics, Associate Chairman for Research-Department of Medicine and Director of the Vermont Lung Center at the University of Vermont.

5:00 - 6:00 PM

Networking Social Hour

Please join us after the presentations for wine and snacks!

For more information, visit: <http://www.uvm.edu/postdocs/> or contact us:

em@il: postdocs@uvm.edu

Telephone: 802-656-9925