

My name is Maggie Levesque (she/her) and I am a first-year from Rochester, NY. As a senator, I will be striving to make sure each and every student's voice is heard — especially those who have been unheard in the past. I, along with many others this year, have been very frustrated with the way administration has been handling student's mental healths (RAs included) in relation to the various COVID-19 restrictions. I will step into the senate to tackle this with a "less talking, more action" mindset. I currently live on Redstone and will be living there next year, so I plan to be open to complaints and serving as an advocate for my peers especially on that campus. I've spent the last 2 years working to help build a small business and plan on bringing my leadership and interpersonal skills I've gained through this process to the Senate floor.
