

Brighton Community Profile

Prepared by the Vermont State Data Center

For the Vermont Council on Rural Development's 2016 Brighton Community Visit

What follows is a collection of indicators and information about the Brighton community and its residents. These data are meant to inform the Vermont Council on Rural Development's community visit, but certainly have many other uses.

The data profile relies upon the following data sources*:

- US Census Bureau's Decennial Census & American Community Survey- <http://factfinder2.census.gov>, Migration Flows Mapper- <https://flowsmapper.geo.census.gov/> and the Local Employment Dynamics tool- <http://lehd.ces.census.gov/led/>
- Vermont State Data Center's historical data profiles at Vermont Indicators Online
- Vermont Dept. of Labor's Labor Force & Unemployment site- www.vtlni.info/labforce.cfm
- Vermont Agency of Education- <http://education.vermont.gov/>

*It should be noted that most of the data presented below are based upon samples and represent the best estimates of actual conditions at any point in time. Readers are encouraged to think about the comparisons and the trends presented in this report.

About the Vermont State Data Center

The Vermont State Data Center, located at UVM's Center for Rural Studies, is a cooperative program between the U.S. Census Bureau and the State of Vermont with a mission to facilitate access to and use of Census and other local data. The VT SDC provides data trainings and assistance to Vermonters and advocates for the use of data to inform decision-making.

Introduction

Location

Brighton is located in Essex County in the heart of Vermont's Northeast Kingdom, roughly 16 miles south of the Canadian border and 10 miles West of the New Hampshire border. Brighton is intersected by state routes 105, 114 and 111. Brighton is about an hour and 45 minute drive from Montpelier and over 2 hours' drive from Burlington. Newport is about 40 minutes away and Saint Johnsbury is under an hour away.

Neighboring towns include Morgan, Warren Gore, and Avery's Gore to the North; Lewis and Ferdinand to the East, Newark to the South, and Westmore and Charleston to the West.

From the Brighton Town Website

"Brighton is a small, picturesque town in rural Essex County, Vermont. Within Brighton, the village of Island Pond serves the community as an economic center, as it has throughout Brighton's history. Situated halfway between Portland, Maine and Montreal, Quebec, Brighton was once a thriving railroad town."

"The village of Island Pond is situated along the shores of the similarly named 600-acre lake with a 22-acre island.

"The Town was organized in 1832. There is an historical marker in Island Pond noting that the village is the meeting place of the first international railroad. One end of the railroad was started in Portland and the other in Montreal, and they met in Island Pond in 1853."

"While the railroad remains a key economic factor for the Town today, tourism has come to play an important part in the economy. Brighton is a small rural town blessed with striking natural beauty and an abundance of natural resources that have benefited residents and attracted visitors for many years. It is also known for its extensive snowmobile trail system."
