COURSE DESCRIPTION

Three years ago, the United Nations declared a Decade of Action on Nutrition (2016-2025) as a strategy to focus attention on eradicating hunger and malnutrition worldwide. As governments and donors step up their efforts to address nutrition challenges, they also increasingly demand evidence that the programs and policies in which they are investing will work.

This is an upper level course designed to expose students to contemporary issues in public health nutrition in a global setting, with an emphasis on maternal and child nutrition in low- and middle-income countries. The course has a particular focus on the interplay between demographic, nutritional, and epidemiologic transitions. We will use case studies from different countries and world regions to explore public health nutrition issues of importance, and efforts to control and prevent hunger, malnutrition, and diet-related problems.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This course will approach global nutrition challenges from a systems perspective and help students develop knowledge and practical skills necessary for advancing global public health nutrition. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Critically analyze major public health nutrition issues in low- and middle-income countries and factors that contribute to these issues;
- Identify the characteristics of key stakeholders in global nutrition policymaking;
- Critically analyze relevant examples of nutrition-sensitive and nutrition-specific interventions in low- and middle-income countries;
- Discuss how political, economic, and social influences underpin nutrition policy and its implementation and impact;
- Locate and evaluate scholarly and authoritative literature concerning public health nutrition in low- and middle-income countries; and

- Demonstrate through design of an evaluation plan how to assess the impact or value of a global nutrition intervention (i.e. determine “what works”) citing apropos scholarly and authoritative sources of evidence.

REQUIRED COURSE MATERIALS

This class will have a course site on Blackboard, which will have the syllabus, required material (or information about how to access required material for no cost or a low cost), and assignments. I will post grades and updates on Blackboard. Students are responsible for the course contents on Blackboard.

ATTENDANCE POLICY AND CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT EXPECTATIONS

All students who receive a copy of this syllabus are implicitly agreeing to its terms, and responsible for its contents.

Attendance and participation

- I expect professional standards of behavior in the classroom. Cell phones should be on vibrate or turned off unless I have indicated permissible use for a specific task.
- I expect regular attendance in class from every student. Absences and chronic tardiness are not acceptable and will affect your grade. If you have a health issue or personal circumstance that will affect your attendance, please work with the Dean’s office or SAS to coordinate accommodations.
- I expect preparation from every student for every class. Please read and view all assigned readings and videos before class on their due date. Failure to prepare adequately will affect your grade.
- I expect participation from every student. This class is designed to as a highly interactive seminar. Seize the day. I intend to have conversations during class and will call on people during discussions as well.

Classroom conduct

I treat students respectfully and we ask that you do the same. To maximize the learning experience for everyone, please adhere to the following guidelines:

- Arrive on time and stay until the end of class;
- Stay awake and focused throughout class;
- Avoid excessive talking with your neighbors except in the context of a class activity;
- Avoid reading or responding to texts; and
- Limit computer usage to course-related material (which will always exclude Instagram, Facebook, etc.).

These guidelines define “disruption”, according to our classroom policies and by the University’s code of conduct. Consequences for disruptive behavior (distracting media use, walking in and out of class, side conversations, etc.) will result in the following:

1. Verbal warning from Dr. Morgan.
2. Dr. Morgan will email you and your academic advisor.
3. Dr. Morgan will issue an academic alert to the Dean’s office.

Communication

I understand that we all have real lives involving illness, death, and other challenges. It is your responsibility to communicate proactively about matters that affect your performance in class, and to seek help for the challenges that you face. If you are going through a personal crisis, please contact your College's Dean's Office to get support in contacting your professors. While I will not waive any course requirements or offer additional extra credit opportunities, I am happy to work with you – but only if you proactively communicate with me.

GRADING CRITERIA/POLICIES AND ASSESSMENTS

This course is comprised of five types of assessments:

Citizenship	10%
This assessment measures the caliber and regularity of your attendance and participation via in-class and out-of-class activities and responses. You get two “free” absences before missing class begins to impact your Citizenship grade. The only reasons additional absences will be excused are if the Dean's Office contacts me about a particular situation, or if there is a pre-approved Varsity Athletic or religious conflict. Graduate students will have additional citizenship requirements.
Exams	40%
The midterm (February 26) and final exam (May 5, 4:30-7:15pm) are each worth 20% of your overall course grade. I will not approve make-ups except in the case of dire emergencies, which can be and are documented, subject to approval. In such a case, the student should contact me within 24 hours of the scheduled exam, unless it is physically impossible to do so, in which case the student should be prepared to document that impossibility.
Paper	30%
You will write one paper in which you will design an intervention and evaluation plan based on relevant scholarly and authoritative sources of evidence. I will post specific guidance, as well as deadlines for section drafts and the full paper to Blackboard. Graduate students will have additional paper requirements.
Presentations	20%
You will give two formal presentations and several in-class “updates” on your paper. I will post specific guidance to Blackboard.
Extra Credit	1%
I will offer extra credit points on the midterm and final exams (0.5% each).

COURSE EVALUATION

You are expected to complete an evaluation of the course at its conclusion. Evaluations will be anonymous and confidential, and we will use the information gained, including constructive criticisms, to improve the course.

STUDENT LEARNING ACCOMMODATIONS

In keeping with University policy, any student with a documented disability interested in utilizing accommodations should contact SAS, the office of Disability Services on campus. SAS works with students and faculty in an interactive process to explore reasonable and appropriate accommodations, which are communicated to faculty in an accommodation letter. All students are strongly encouraged to meet with their faculty to discuss the accommodations they plan to use in each course. A student's accommodation letter lists those accommodations that will not be implemented until the student meets with their faculty to create a plan. #### STATEMENT ON ALCOHOL AND CANNABIS IN THE ACADEMIC ENVIRONMENT

As a faculty member, I want you to get the most you can out of this course. You play a crucial role in your education and in your readiness to learn and fully engage with the course material. It is important to note that alcohol and cannabis have no place in an academic environment. They can seriously impair your ability to learn and retain information not only in the moment you may be using, but up to 48 hours or more afterwards. In addition, alcohol and cannabis can:

- Cause issues with attention, memory and concentration
- Negatively impact the quality of how information is processed and ultimately stored
- Affect sleep patterns, which interferes with long-term memory formation

It is my expectation that you will do everything you can to optimize your learning and to fully participate in this course.
