Credit

The unit of credit at the University of Vermont is the semester hour. Between July 1945 and September 1948, the University operated on a quarter system; three quarter hours are equivalent to two semester hours.

Grade Point Average

The grade point average is obtained by dividing the total number of quality points earned at the University of Vermont by the number of semester hours attempted for grades. Grades for courses transferred to the University of Vermont are not included in the University of Vermont grade point average, unless they are part of a University of Vermont-sponsored program.

Repeated Courses

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS who repeat a course only receive credit once for the course. The grades for all occurrences of the course remain on the permanent academic record and all are included in computing the cumulative grade point average. GRADUATE STUDENTS may repeat a course for credit only when failed and only once; only the second grade is then considered. Both grades remain on the student’s record. Repeated courses are identified by an ‘A’ or ‘I’ appearing after the grade. ‘I’ means the course is repeatable and credit is granted for the course. ‘A’ means the course is not repeatable and credit is not received.
